The complex cropmark landscape east of Riseley Common, Blackwater catchment. Features include enclosures, ring ditches, field boundaries and pits interpreted as late prehistoric and Romano-British in date. Some of the fields are overlain by later parallel ridges which are presumably aiding drainage; the direction of the ridges is shown here by magenta arrows. Ditches are shown in green and banks in red. The banked field system to the northeast of the main complex is interpreted as medieval or later in origin. Reproduced from the Ordnance Survey map with the permission of the controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office. © Crown Copyright 2006HCC 100019180.
