

INDEX.

A.

- Abbey Dore, Herefordshire, diminutive effigy of a bishop there, 24.
- Abraxas, specimens of the, in the Arundel collection, 17, 104.
- Addington, Mr., enamels exhibited by, 289; miniatures by Bone, 296; Chinese enamels, &c., 301.
- Agate, presented to Queen Elizabeth by Matthew Parker, 146; virtues attributed to that gem, 151.
- Ailettes, example of, on a sepulchral brass at Chester, 187.
- Amherst, the Earl, exhibits an enameled watch, 294.
- Amphoræ, numerous fragments of, found in the Isle of Wight, 169.
- Amulet against colic, in the Arundel Collection, 11; virtues attributed to the agate, 151; to other stones, 155, 158.
- Anderdon, Mr., exhibits an enameled escutcheon, 8, 286; enameled bowl from Bologna, and other enamels, ib.; miniatures by N. Hone, Bone, &c., 297; Roman bronze sacrificial vase, 365.
- Anderson, Sir C., exhibits an enameled plate with the Lenox arms, 295; enameled snuff-box from Naples, ib.; miniatures, 296; knife and fork with handles of Battersea enamel, 299.
- ANGLO-SAXON PERIOD:—charters in Inghulfus' History considered, 35, 114; political relations of Gloucestershire in Saxon times, 50; bronze torque rings, &c., found at Norwich, 88; wooden situla found at Louth, Lincolnshire, 172; rings ornamented with niello, 326; antiquities found at Ash, Kent, 339: do. found in the Isle of Wight, ib.
- Anthony, Mr., exhibits various enamels, 282.
- Antiquaries, Society of, leaden weight in their museum, 83; dodecahedron of bronze, ib.; enameled reliquary, 282; spinula ornamented with niello, 292.
- Armlet of glass, fragment of one found at Greaves Ash, Northumberland, 184; of bronze, found in a cavern in Weardale, 359.
- ARMS AND ARMOUR:—effigy of a knight at Zurich, 1; remarkable visored bacinet, 4; gauntlets, 7, 163; early use of guns in the English army, 68; curious particulars regarding the crossbow, &c., 72; bronze helmet found in the Tigris, 76; oriental helmet with a nasal, shoes of mail, &c., from the Arsenal, Constantinople, 89; specimens of russet and engraved armour, ib.; oriental weapons exhibited by Mr. W. J. Bernhard Smith, 91; notices of buff and scaled armour, by Mr. Hewitt, 93; penny plate armour, 96; brigandine armour, 97; jazeran armour, 98; arms and armour in the inventory of effects of Archbishop Bowet, 159; jack of defence, 160; mail-armour, ib.; paunce, 161; schynbaldes for the thighs, ib.; ailettes, 162, 187; palet, or helm of leather, 162; curious visor, spanners, plug-bayonet, &c., exhibited, 173; rapiers, daggers, plug-bayonets, &c., 174; Spanish rapiers, 180; goedendag, Flemish weapon so called, 314; sabre with finger-guard, 318; armour of Henry VIII. in the Tower, 321.
- Arundel Collection of gems, notices of, by the Rev. C. W. King, 9, 99; supposed cameo portrait of the Countess of Arundel, 105; remarkable gem representing Venus with Vulcan, 148.
- Auditors, their Report, 189.

- Avenches, die for striking gold coins found there, 253.
- Axes, carried by German miners, exhibited, 175.
- B.
- Baker, Mrs. T. L. Barwick, jewel presented to Queen Elizabeth in her possession, 146.
- Bale, Mr. C. S., exhibits enamels, 290; a miniature of Addison, by Zincke, 296; Chinese enamels, 301.
- Barnwell, Rev. C. J., exhibits a maul-head of chalcedony found in North Wales, 92.
- Bath, Roman remains, inscription, &c., found at, 357.
- Bath, knights of the, ceremonial of their creation exhibited, 187.
- Battersea enamels, notices of, 297, 298.
- Bayonet, early specimens exhibited by Mr. Bernhard Smith, 173; by Mr. Pritchett, 174.
- Beck, Rev. J., exhibits iron rush-holders used in Sussex, 181.
- Bells, Irish, ornamented with niello, 339; inscribed bronze bell exhibited by the Rev. T. Cornthwaite, 365.
- Bingham, Rev. C., exhibits documents relating to Cumberland, 367; intaglio in a mediæval setting found in Dorset, 369.
- Binns, Mr. R. W., exhibits Battersea enamels, 299.
- Blaauf, Mr., exhibits an enameled snuff-box, 294.
- Blore, Mr., representation of an effigy at Abbey Dore, drawn by him, 24; see also Additions, viii.
- Bloxam, Mr. M. H., exhibits a bronze helmet found in the Tigris, 76; memoir by him on effigies in Peterborough cathedral, 134; exhibits an enameled Roman relic found in Northumberland, 279; a jeweled ornament found at Wibtoft, Leicestershire; an enameled pyx, 283.
- Bodleian Library, notice of Dr. Rawlinson's collection of seals there, 369.
- Bohn, Mr. H., exhibits a silver medallion of Mary Queen of Scots, 173.
- Bone, implements, &c., of, found in a cavern in Weardale, 359.
- Botfield, Mr., exhibits a bronze weight found at Croyland, 82; an enameled snuff-box, 294.
- BRASSES, SEPULCHRAL:—at Gunby, Lincolnshire, 123; of a knight in the Franciscan habit at Connington, 145; brasses in monastic habits, ib.; in cross-legged attitude, formerly in St. Mary's Church, Chester, 187; enriched with enamel, 285.
- Bredenstone, at Dover, notices of the, 86.
- Breton, or Brito, notices of persons so named, 28.
- Bridge, Roman, remains of one crossing the North Tyne, 359.
- Brigandine armour, 97; head-piece found at Davington, 98.
- Brochmael, king of Powis in the seventh century, 214.
- BRONZE, antiquities of:—Greek helmet found in the Tigris, 76; miniature representation of a Roman bath found in Hampshire, 82; mediæval weight found at Croyland, ib.; torque rings found near Norwich, 88; sword found in the River Lea, 91; blade found in Lincolnshire, in Mr. Bernhard Smith's collection, ib.; Roman vases found in Leicestershire, 182; celts and celt-mould, &c., found in a cavern in Weardale, 359; celt and spear found near Corbridge, 363; celt in Mr. Bernhard Smith's collection, 364; weapons found at Ditton, exhibited by the Earl Lovelace, ib.
- Brooch, enameled, found in the Thames, 91; bronze, found with Roman coins near Ely, 365; Scottish, ornamented with niello, 328.
- Buff armour of, 93.
- Bullæ, Roman, Venetian, &c., in Mr. Waterton's collection, 368.
- Burges, Mr. W., his account of a sepulchral effigy at Florence, 90; exhibits a spear-head and other weapons, 173.
- Burt, Mr. J., his notices of the early use of brass and gunpowder in the English Army, 68; presents a Catalogue of the Library of the Institute, 87; his notices of Documents at Worcester, 389.
- Buxton, Sir Robert, exhibits a shell mounted on an enameled foot, 291.
- C.
- Caerleon, Catalogue of the Museum there, 192; Roman enamels found there, 279.
- Cæsar, observations on his landing in Britain, 86.
- Caffin, Capt., Persian armour and arms from the Tower exhibited by his permission, 301.
- Camel, remarkable specimens in the Arundel collection, 9, 99; on the shrine of the Three Kings at Cologne, 219.
- CAMBRIDGESHIRE:—urn found at March, 364; Roman coins found near Ely, 365.
- Cannon, early notice of, 70.

- Carlisle, Roman sculpture found at, 177.
- Carr, Mr., exhibits a portrait of Jane Seymour, 187; of Zuinglius, 188.
- Carruthers, Mr., exhibits miniature portraits, 296.
- Castellani, Signor, his remarks on the use of enamel by the Greeks and Etruscans, 275.
- Ceawlin, king of Wessex, his conquest of the Severn Valley, 196.
- Celt, of stone, found near Honiton, 88; in Ireland, 92; remarkable hammer-head found near Corwen, ib.
- , of bronze, found in a cavern in Weardale, 359; found near Corbridge, 364; Irish, in Mr. Bernhard Smith's collection, ib.
- , mould for making, found in Weardale, 359.
- Chalcography, its origin traced to the art of niello, 334.
- Chalice, of gold at Matson, Gloucestershire, 89; of pewter, found in the coffin of an abbot of Chertsey, 168; at Mayence cathedral, 226; with two handles, represented on a sculpture in ivory at Francfort, 227; of Siennese work, made for Boniface VIII., in possession of Canon Rock, 332; enriched with niello, lately made by Mr. Hardman, 338.
- Chapman, Mr., exhibits an enameled casket, 285.
- Charles I., collection of his letters at Worcester, 392.
- Chelsea, manufacture of porcelain there, notes relating to, by Mr. Franks, 340; early specimens described, 343; vase in the British Museum, 34.
- Chertsey Abbey, notices by Mr. Shurlock of discoveries there, 167; Register of one of the abbots in Lord Clifford's Library, 350; fall of the tower, 352.
- CHESHIRE:—Roman inscription found at Chester, 186; statuette of Venus, Roman tile, leaden stamp found at Chester, ib.; sepulchral brass with a cross-legged effigy formerly in St. Mary's church, Chester, 187; Faddeley, the Fethan leag of the Saxon Chronicle, 198.
- Chinese antiquities, inscription to Ta-Yu described by Dr. Macgowan, 166; Chinese enamels exhibited, 277, 299.
- Cicognara, the Count, nielli in his collection, 293, 338.
- Clayton, Mr. J., his account of the Roman bridge at Chesters, Northumberland, 359.
- Clayton, Mr. W., his account of the remains of a Roman pharos at Dover, 86.
- Clifford, Lord, Register of Chertsey Abbey in his possession, 350.
- Coffin, of lead, found at Norwich, 88.
- Coins, Roman, found at Wroxeter, 80; die for striking Helvetian gold coins found at Avenches, 253; other ancient dies noticed, 256, 258; Roman coins found near Ely, 365; at Woolston, 394.
- Colnaghi, Mr., exhibits nielli, 293; enameled miniatures, 295.
- Cologne, notices of the cathedral, shrine of the Three Kings, &c., 219; of St. Cunibert's and other churches, 220; of the museum, 224; of the architectural museum, 225.
- Constantinople, armour, &c., from the arsenal, 89.
- Corbridge, celt and bronze weapons found at, 363.
- Cornthwaite, Rev. T., bronze bell exhibited by, 365.
- CORNWALL:—leaden image found on Bodwen Moor, 172.
- Corrody, granted by the Abbot and Convent of Chertsey, 353; other grants of the like nature, 354.
- COSTUME:—Military, illustrated by an inventory of armour, &c., belonging to Archbishop Bowet, 160; Flemish, in the fourteenth century, 315. See Arms and Armour.
- , ecclesiastical, exemplified by an effigy at Abbey Dore, Herefordshire, 24; effigies in Peterborough Cathedral, 135, et seq.
- , monastic, examples rare amongst sepulchral effigies, 145.
- Councils, royal, held at Worcester, 303.
- Counters, engraved with regal figures, 366.
- Crapon, or toadstone, talisman against poison, 155; ring set with, in possession of Cardinal Wiseman, 189.
- Crawley, Rev. C. Y., his account of a gold chalice and salver at Matson, 89.
- Cross, pectoral, of gold, exhibited by Sir T. Gage Rokewode, 188.
- Crossbows, curious particulars relating to, 72.
- CUMBERLAND:—documents relating to Ulvesby, &c., 367.
- Cunliffe, Mr., exhibits a miniature by Bone, 297.
- Curzon, Hon. Robert, drawing of a ciborium in his collection exhibited, 285; exhibits nielli, an unique impression of a niello on vellum, &c., 292; Persian weapons, 301.

D.

- Dagger, shown on an effigy at Zurich, 6; exhibited by Mr. Waterton, 173; Spanish, exhibited by Mr. Bernhard

- Smith, 174; Persian, exhibited by the Hon. Robert Curzon, 301.
- Darmstadt, manuscripts in the library there, 230; consular diptych of ivory there, 232; sculptures in ivory in the Museum, 233.
- Davies, Mr. Hillary, presents a Survey of Wroxeter, 81.
- DERBYSHIRE:—mediæval potteries found by Mr. L. Jewitt, 184, 185.
- DEVONSHIRE:—flint celt found near Honiton, 88; proposed publication of Dr. Oliver's Parochial Antiquities, 192.
- Diptych, consular, at Darmstadt, 232.
- DOCUMENTS:—charters in the History of Ingulfus examined, 34, 114; extracts from one of the Pipe Rolls relating to the use of guns and gunpowder, 68; frequent forgeries of early monastic documents, 120; Inventory of armour and arms of Archbishop Bowet, 158; spurious charter of Edward the Confessor in possession of the Earl of Winchelsea, 176; lease of land in the Isle of Wight, with an unique official seal, 180; copies of documents made for Sir C. Hatton exhibited, 187; Roll of a French version of the Modus for holding Parliaments exhibited, ib.; memoir by Mr. T. Duffus Hardy on the Modus aforesaid, 259; Indentures between Henry VII. and the Abbot of Westminster, &c., exhibited, 238; Treaty between Henry VIII. and Francis I., ib.; Bull of Clement VII. assigning the title of Defender of the Faith, ib.; statutes of the order of St. Michael sent to Henry VIII., ib.; register of Chertsey Abbey in possession of Lord Clifford, 350; corrody granted by the abbot and convent of Chertsey, 353; notice of corrodies granted elsewhere, 354; documents relating to Cumberland exhibited by the Rev. C. W. Bingham, 367; diploma granted by the Academy of Padua, 368; report by Mr. Burt on the depositories of documents at Worcester, 389; grant by Ralph de Mortimer in possession of Sir Edmund Lechmere, 393; proposed publication of the "Trésor des Chartes" in France, 402.
- Domesday, names of places in Gloucestershire identified, 59.
- Donaldson, Professor, exhibits sepulchral urns found at Alexandria, 171.
- Dorchester, intaglio in a mediæval silver setting found there, 369.
- Dover, notice of the Bredenstone, a relic of a Roman pharos there, 86; re-

- mains of the Templars' church there noticed, ib.
- Dugdale, collections made by him for Sir C. Hatton, 186, 264.
- Duke, Rev. E., exhibits a pair of enameled andirons, 291.
- DURHAM:—antiquities found in a cavern in Weardale, 358.
- Durlacher, Mr., exhibits various enamels, 290; miniatures, &c., painted in enamel, 296.

E.

- Earle, Rev. J., memoir by him on local names in Gloucestershire, 50.
- EFFIGIES, SEPULCHRAL:—figure of a knight at Zurich, 1; of diminutive size, at Abbey Dore, Herefordshire, 24; accompanying the interment of a heart, 26, 27; of brass, at Aiguebelle, representing Peter, Bishop of Hereford, 27; memorials of the Caryl family at Harting, Sussex, 91; in Peterborough Cathedral, described by Mr. Bloxam, 134; in monastic dress, 145; singular figure at Pershore, 378; at Great Malvern, 387.
- Egerton, Sir Philip de M. Grey, exhibits an enameled reliquary, 282; a sword with ornaments in niello, taken at Balaclava, 293.
- Elizabeth, Queen, pendant jewel presented to her by Archbishop Parker, 146; miniature portrait of her, 152; cameo by Coldoré amongst the Devonshire gems, 154; portrait in Mr. Graves' possession, 155.
- Ely, urn in the museum there, 364; Roman coins, &c., found there, 365.
- Embroideries, exhibited by Miss Ffarington, 83; portrait of the Old Chevalier, in tent-stitch, exhibited by Mr. Waterton, 189; exhibited by the Rev. W. Sneyd, ib.; pall belonging to the Clothiers' guild at Worcester, 385.
- ENAMELS:—escutcheon exhibited by Mr. Anderdon, 8, 286; Roman fibula exhibited by Mr. Franks, 91; Italian work on settings of gems in the Arundel collection, 101, 105; archiepiscopal cross at Cologne Cathedral, 219; Special Exhibition of, 274—301; remarks on their classification, 276; produced at Battersea, 277, 297; Chinese, 277, 299; the Lenox Jewel, 277; Russian, on an evangelary in the Queen's library at Windsor, 278; Roman, found at Lincoln, ib.; cast of the Bartlow vase exhibited, ib.; found at Caerleon, 279; at Kirkby Thore, Painswick, and other Roman sites, ib.; found near Rome, 279; specimens preserved in the Vatican, 280; in the British Museum, ib.; Irish, found at Lagore, ib.; bridle-bit found in county Monaghan, ib.; ring-brooch found also there, 281; found near Lewes, ib.; choice specimens of various periods exhibited, from the Museum of Practical Geology, ib.; portrait by Leonard Limousin, 282; reliquary exhibited by the Society of Antiquaries, ib.; Russo-Greek folding tablet, ib.; reliquary found in Cheshire, exhibited by Sir Philip de M. Grey Egerton, ib.; two-handled cup of late Limoges work, ib.; reliquary and other specimens exhibited by Mr. Anthony, ib.; fine plaque exhibited by the Rev. J. F. Russell, ib.; specimens of Limoges work and various other enamels exhibited by Mr. Mayer, 283; German, exhibited by Mr. Slade, ib.; pyx of Limoges work exhibited by the Rev. C. R. Manning, ib.; ditto, by Mr. Bloxam, ib.; enameled boss and another ornament exhibited by Mr. Henderson, ib.; German, exhibited by Mr. Rolls, ib.; ditto, with various other specimens exhibited by Mr. Octavius Morgan, ib., 284; choice specimens, ciborium in form of a dove, caskets, unique enamel by Ambrosio di Landriano, mazer, works by Leonard Limousin, &c., exhibited by Mr. Magniac, 284; Limoges and other enamels, gold crucifix, &c., exhibited by Mr. Beresford Hope, ib.; casket with armorial bearings made probably for William de Valence, 285; illustrations of the use of enamel for the enrichment of Sepulchral Brasses, ib.; drawings of choice examples exhibited by Mr. H. Shaw, ib.; drawings exhibited by Mr. Winston, 286; basins exhibited by Mr. Waterton, ib.; Italian bowl and other specimens exhibited by Mr. Anderdon, ib.; early Limoges and German Italian chalices, &c., exhibited by Mr. Webb, ib.; heraldic badge and other enamels exhibited by Mr. Bernhard Smith, 287; heraldic badges exhibited by the Rev. C. R. Manning, ib.; silver folding-tablet exhibited by Sir T. R. Gage, ib.; translucent, and other specimens exhibited by Mr. O. Morgan, ib.; singular crucifix exhibited by the Rev. W. Wennall, 288; ornamental bosses, &c., on the Indentures between Henry VII. and the Abbot of Westminster, ib.; Venetian, exhibited by Mr. Rohde Hawkins, ib.; fine tazza exhibited by Sir E. Lechmere, ib.; candlestick and other choice Limoges enamels exhibited by Mr. Whitehead, 289; tazza exhibited by Mr. Stuart Mackenzie, ib.; tazza, salt-cellars and other choice specimens exhibited by Mr. Addington, ib.; triptych exhibited by Mr. Morland, ib.; Venetian, Limoges and other specimens exhibited by Mr. Franks, ib.; Limoges works, enamels on gold, &c., exhibited by Mr. Durlacher, 290; specimens exhibited by Mr. Bale, ib.; by Mr. Webb, ib.; by Mr. Wilson, ib.; andirons exhibited by the Rev. E. Duke, 291; drawing of a candlestick found at York, ib.; strombus shell mounted on an enameled stand exhibited by Sir R. Buxton, ib.; gold pendant formerly belonging to Sir T. More, bequeathed to Stonyhurst College, 292; series of watches exhibited by Mr. O. Morgan, 293; watch exhibited by the Earl Amherst, 294; cruciform watch exhibited by Mr. Whitehead, ib.; watch exhibited by Mr. Franks, ib.; snuff-boxes, vases, &c., exhibited by Mr. W. Russell, 294; choice specimens exhibited by Mr. Blaauw, Mr. Botfield, and Sir Charles Anderson, 294, 295; pectoral cross, and a chatelaine formerly belonging to Mary of Modena, exhibited by Mr. Pritchett, 295; miniatures painted in enamel exhibited by Mr. Fischer, ib.; ditto by Mr. J. G. Nichols, Mr. Coinaghi, and Mr. Shirley, ib.; ditto by Mr. Addington, Sir Charles Anderson, the Duke of Northumberland, Mr. Carruthers, Lord Talbot de Malahide, Mr. Whitehead, &c., ib.; ditto by Mr. Wilson, Mr. Cunliffe, and Mr. Anderdon, 297; Battersea, &c., exhibited by Lord Talbot and Mr. Morgan, ib.; ditto by Mr. Franks, the Museum of Practical Geology, Mr. Wilson, and Sir S. Scott, 298; ditto by Mr. Binns, Mr. Rohde Hawkins, and Sir C. Anderson, 299; Chinese and oriental, exhibited by Mr. Henderson, ib.; ditto by Mr. Beresford Hope, Mr. W. Russell, Mr. Franks, Mr. Hawkins, the Museum of Practical Geology, and Mr. Morgan, 300; ditto by Mr. Rohde Hawkins, Mr. Addington, Mr. Roots, and Mr. Bale, 301; priming flasks, supposed to be Turkish, ib.; Persian daggers, &c., exhibited by the Hon. R. Curzon, ib.; Persian armour and arms from the Tower Armory, ib.

F.

- Ferguson, Mr., his account of a Roman sculpture found at Carlisle, 176.
- Ffarington, Miss, exhibits documents, impressions of seals, &c., 83; embroideries, ib.; a flint celt found near Honiton, 88.
- Fibula, enameled, found in the Thames, 91; bronze, found near Ely, 365.
- Figge, Mr., exhibits a miniature by J. Forster, 181; enameled object found near Lewes, 281.
- Finiguerra, his discovery of chalcography, 335.
- Fischer, Mr., exhibits miniatures by Zincke, 295; an enamel by William Craft, ib.; miniatures by Bone, &c., ib.
- Fisher, Mr. M., exhibits an urn found at March, 364.
- Fitch, Mr., his account of a mural painting at Norwich, 81; exhibits bronze torque rings found at Norwich, 88; his notice of a leaden coffin found there, ib.
- Flint, celt found near Honiton, 88; relics found at Greaves Ash, Northumberland, 184.
- Font, of brass at Mayence, 226.
- Frankfort, ivory sculptures and MSS. in the Museum there, 227.
- Franks, Mr., exhibits a bronze sword found in the river Lea, 91; a bronze swan and enameled fibula found in the Thames, ib.; an engraved bamboo cane, 181; drawings of enamels at Rome, 279; of a Roman vase found at Ambleteuse, 280; Venetian and other enamels, 289; enameled watch, 294; miniature by Dinglinger, 296; Chinese enamels, 300; his Notes on Chelsea Porcelain, 340.
- Freeman, Mr. S. P., exhibits gold Greek medallions, 171.
- Freeman, Mr. E., his observations on Pershore Abbey church, 377; on Evesham Abbey and Simon de Montfort, 379; on Malvern Priory church, 385.

G.

- Gage, Sir T. R., exhibits a gold pectoral cross, 188; an illuminated MS. presented to Henry Prince of Wales by Esther Inglis, ib.; a silver enameled triptych, 287.
- Gauntlets, represented on a sepulchral effigy at Zurich, 7; of buff leather, 94; long-cuffed, for the bride arm, 96; with brass knuckles, 163.
- GEMS:—notices of the Arundel collection,

9, 99; jewel given by Archbishop Parker to Queen Elizabeth, 146; talismanic virtues attributed to, 155, 158; on the shrine of the three Kings at Cologne, 219; intaglio in a mediæval setting found in Dorset, 369.

Germany, archaeological notes on various churches, museums, &c., 219.

Glass, Roman, bottles found at Wroxeter, 80; found in Leicestershire, 183.

—, painted, fragments found at Chertsey Abbey, 168; German, exhibited by Mr. Pritchett, 174; at Little Malvern church, 387.

GLoucestershire:—traces of its history and ethnology in local names, 50; gold chalice and salver in Matson church, 89; memoir by Dr. Guest on the English Conquest of the Severn Valley, 193.

Gloves, embroidered, exhibited by the Rev. W. Sneyd, 189.

Glyptic Art, notices of the Arundel collection by the Rev. C. W. King, 9, 99; jewel presented to Queen Elizabeth by Archbishop Parker, 146.

Godwin, Mr. E. W., his notice of the tower of St. Philip's, Bristol, 91.

Gold Gaulish coins, die for striking them found at Avenches, 253.

Greek fire, notices of, 69.

Greeks, the Ten Thousand, supposed traces of their retreat, 77.

Guest, Dr., his Memoir on the English Conquest of the Severn Valley, 193.

Guns and gunpowder, notices of their early use, 68; stock-guns, 163.

Gurney, Mr. D., exhibits a portrait of Prince Arthur, 83; of Darnley, ib.

H.

Hamond, Mr. W. P., exhibits a French jeton found at Croydon, 89.

HAMPSHIRE:—miniature bronze representation of a bath found at Basingstoke, 82.

Hardy, Mr. T. Duffus, his Memoir on the Modus for holding a Parliament, 259.

Hartshorne, Rev. C. H., his Memoir on Royal Councils at Worcester, 303.

Hatton, Sir C., collections made for him by Dugdale exhibited by the Earl of Winchelsea, 186.

Hawkins, Mr., exhibits Chinese enamels, 300; his observations on the Mint at Worcester, 388.

—, Mr. Rohde, exhibits Venetian and other enamels, 288; a specimen of Battersea enamel, 299; Turkish priming flask, 301; Chinese enamels, ib.

Heart, interments of the, apart from the corpse, 26, 27.

Helmet, curious example on a sepulchral effigy at Zürich, 4; bronze, found in the Tigris, 77; oriental, from the Arsenal at Constantinople, 89; with ventaille of mail, 161; of leather called a palet, 162.

Henderson, Mr., majolica plate in his collection, 148; exhibits enameled ornaments, 283; Chinese enamels from the Summer Palace, &c., 299.

HERALDRY:—armorial escutcheon worn on the camail, 5, 8; roll of arms preserved at Zurich, 7; enameled escutcheon in Mr. Anderdon's collection, 8, 286; arms of Henry VIII. on the covers of a book, 174; proposed publication by Mr. J. G. Nichols relating to, 191; Notice of Mr. Papworth's Dictionary of Arms, ib.; small enameled escutcheons exhibited, 287.

HEREFORDSHIRE:—diminutive effigy at Abbey Dore, 24; separate interment of a heart at Aconbury, 26; ditto at Ewyas Harold, ib.

HERTFORDSHIRE:—bronze sword found in the river Lea, 91.

Hewitt, Mr., his notices of buff and of scaled armour, 93; exhibits a document relating to the Isle of Wight, with an unique official seal, 180; his notices of the Flemish goeden-dag, 314; of a sabre with a finger-guard, 318.

Hill, the Rev. J. H., his notice of Roman relics found near Cranoe, 182.

Hope, Mr. A. Beresford, exhibits various enamels, 284; Chinese enamels, 300.

Hut-circles, in Northumberland and other localities, 184.

I.

Inglis, Esther, a MS. presented by her to Prince Henry exhibited, 188.

Ingulfus, his History and Charters considered, by Mr. H. T. Riley, 32, 114.

INSCRIPTIONS:—to Ta-Yu, Emperor of China, exhibited by Dr. Macgowan, 166; on early Christian tombs at Cologne, 222; to Fastrada, wife of Charlemagne, at Mayence, 226.

IRELAND:—stone celts found there, 92; petition of the Archbishop of Cashel to Thomas of Lancaster, 255, 274; Irish bronze celt exhibited, 364.

Iron-work, a lock exhibited by Mr. Waterton, 173; German and Italian exhibited by Mr. Pritchett, 174.

Ivory sculptures, casket from Veroli exhibited by Mr. Webb, 88; tablet from Chichester cathedral exhibited by Mr. Mills, ib.; box containing a jewel presented to Queen Elizabeth by Archbishop Parker, 149; folding tablets from Vale Crucis Abbey exhibited by Mr. Wynne, 178; at Cologne cathedral, 219; casket at St. Ursula's church, Cologne, 222; at the Museum, Cologne, 224; combs, ivory boxes, &c., 225; at Mayence, 227; at Francfort, 227; consular diptych at Darmstadt, 233; casts to be obtained at Francfort, ib.

J.

Jack of defence, notice of, 160.

Jazeran armour, notice of, 98.

Jeton, French, found at Croydon, 89.

Jewel, presented by Archbishop Parker to Queen Elizabeth, 146; various other presents to that Queen, 154.

Jewitt, Mr. L., his account of mediæval potteries found in Derbyshire, 184.

Johnson, Dr., his Report on excavations at Wroxeter, 80.

K.

Keller, Dr., his notice of a sepulchral effigy at Zürich, 1; exhibits a photograph of a bronze dodecahedron there, 83; a drawing of a pendant amulet set with an intaglio, 157; his account of a die for striking Gaulish gold coins found at Avenches, 253.

Kendrick, Dr., exhibits impressions of Italian and other seals in the Bodleian Library, 369.

KENT:—notice of the vestiges of a Roman pharos on the Western Heights, 86; proposed meeting of the Institute at Rochester, 399.

Kent, Miss, exhibits a portrait of Petrarch, 366.

Key, with the monogram; &c., of Henry II. king of France, 174.

King, the Rev. C. W., his Notices of the Arundel Collection of Gems, 9, 99; his remarks on a jewel presented to Queen Elizabeth, 148.

Knill, Mr. S., exhibits a brass box engraved with sacred subjects, 366.

Kyndylan, elegy by Llywarch Hen on his death, 199.

L.

Lamps, Roman, found at Wroxeter, 80.

Le Keux, Mr., exhibits a specimen of Wedgwood's ware, 189.

- Lead, Roman coffin of, found at Norwich, 88; remarkable galley of the knights of Malta sheathed with, 90; leaden image with Hebrew characters found in Cornwall, 172; Roman stamp found at Chester, 186; perforated disk exhibited by Mr. Waterton, 189; used largely in the construction of the Roman bridge across North Tyne, 361, 362.
- Lechmere, Sir Edmund, exhibits a fine enameled tazza, 288; a document with the seal of Ralph de Mortimer, 393.
- Lee, Mr. E., exhibits Roman enamels found at Caerleon, 279; his Catalogue of the Museum there noticed, 302.
- Lefroy, Col., exhibits a representation of a Roman bath, in bronze, found near Basingstoke, 82; a sabre with a finger-guard from the Arsenal at Woolwich, 318.
- LEICESTERSHIRE:—Roman antiquities of bronze, glass, &c., found near Cranoe, 182.
- LINCOLNSHIRE:—singular shaft at Lincoln described by Mr. Trollope, 169; Saxon stula found at Louth, 172; seal of the Abbey of Louth Park, 173.
- Lister, Dr., his notices of early manufactures of porcelain in France, &c., 341, 343.
- Livock, Mr., his remarks on ancient horticulture, 177; exhibits curious tapestry, ib.
- Lloyd, Mr., his remarks on Julius Cæsar's landing in Britain, 86.
- Lovelace, the Earl, exhibits bronze weapons, &c., found at Ditton, 364.
- Lyttelton, the Lord, president at the Worcester meeting of the Institute, 371.
- M.
- McCaul, the Rev. Dr., exhibits antiquities found near the Niagara river, 363.
- Macgowan, Dr., his account of an inscribed memorial of Ta-Yu, Emperor of China, 166.
- Mackenzie, Mr. S., exhibits an enameled tazza, 289.
- Mackie, Mr., his account of relics of bronze, bone, &c., found in a cavern in Weardale, 358.
- Madden, Sir F., his remarks on a spurious charter of Edward the Confessor exhibited by the Earl of Winchilsea, 176; see also Corrections, at p. viii.
- Mail, shoes of, from the Arsenal at Constantinople, 89; armour of, noticed, 160; ventaille of a helmet formed of, 161; cleaned by rolling in a barrel, 163.
- Magniac, Mr., exhibits various enamels, 284.
- Manning, Rev. C. R., exhibits enameled escutcheons, a pyx, &c., 283, 287.
- Manuscripts, in the Museum at Cologne, 224; at Francfort, 227; at Darmstadt, 230, 232; in possession of Sir T. Winnington, 393. See Documents.
- Marble, Roman inscriptions on, found at Bath, 358; rarely found with Roman remains in England, ib.
- Mary Queen of Scots, portrait of her exhibited by Mr. H. Bohn, 173; MS. Justification of the policy of Queen Elizabeth in regard to her, 393.
- Mathews, Mr., exhibits impressions of seals, 173.
- Mayence, objects in the Museum there noticed, 226.
- Mayer, Mr., exhibits various enamels, 283; specimens of niello, 293.
- Medals, papal, exhibited by Professor Westmacott, 178; of the Academies at Rome and Florence, 180; of the Royal Academy, ib.
- Mellor, Rev. G., exhibits Irish celts of stone, 92.
- Mills, Mr., exhibits an ivory tablet found at Chichester, 88.
- Miners' axes, German, exhibited, 174.
- Mint, at Worcester, notice of, by Mr. Hawkins, 338.
- Minty, Mr., his account of monuments of the Caryll family at Harting, Sussex, 91; exhibits a silver ring found at Tenby, 189.
- "Modus tenendi Parliamentum," Memoir by Mr. Duffus Hardy on the, 259; unique copy of a French version of, exhibited by the Earl of Winchilsea, 187, 264, 266.
- MONMOUTHSHIRE:—effigy of a lady at Abergavenny, 27; Roman enamels found at Caerleon, 279; Catalogue, by Mr. Lee, of the Museum there, 302.
- More, Sir T., his silver seals preserved at Stonyhurst College, 292; gold ornament, with a figure of St. George, formerly belonging to him, ib.; his pectoral cross ornamented with niello, 336.
- Morgan, Mr. Octavius, exhibits a Chinese seal of agate, 83; various specimens of enamel, 283, 287; a baldric with Italian armorial bearings, 293, 331; a series of watches in enameled cases, 293; Battersea enamels, 297; Chinese enamels, 300; oriental laver and ewer of brass, 366.

- Morland, Mr., exhibits an enameled triptych, &c., 289.
- Murchison, Sir R., exhibits several German miners' axes, 174; choice specimens of enamel from the Museum of Practical Geology, exhibited by his permission, 279, 281, 298, 300.
- Museum, British, objects of antiquity and art there preserved:—gold Byzantine ring ornamented with niello, 325; gold ring found near Peterborough, 326; ring with inscription partly in Runes, found in Lancashire, 327; Ethelwulf's ring, ib.; nielli, pax, wrought by Peregrino da Cesena, and other examples of the art of niello, 331, 333, 336; Saxon antiquities found at Ash, Kent, 339; Irish bells of sacred character, ib.; vase of Chelsea porcelain, 347; singular urn found at Appleford, Berks, 365.
- of Practical Geology, German miners' axes there preserved, 174; various choice enamels exhibited from that collection, 279, 281, 298, 300.
- , Royal, at Copenhagen, gold ring found at Bramham Moor, Yorkshire, there preserved, 327.

N.

- Names, local, Memoir by the Rev. J. Earle on those of Gloucestershire, 50.
- Newton, Mr. C., his work on the Antiquities of Halicarnassus, 166; cast of the head of a statue of Ceres found by him at Cnidus exhibited, ib.
- Niagara River, relics of stone, &c., from tumuli on its banks exhibited, 363.
- Nichols, Mr. J. Gough, proposed publication by him on heraldry and genealogy, 191; exhibits a miniature of the Earl of Scarborough by Zincke, 295.
- , Mrs. J. Gough, exhibits a miniature of Anne, Princess Royal by Zincke, 295; a Chinese enameled box, formerly belonging to Mrs. Thrane, ib.
- NIELLO.—discourses on the art of, by Mr. Waterton, 175, 323; specimen of, on the mounting of a nautilus-shell cup in the Rev. W. Sneyd's collection, 189; Special Exhibition illustrative of the Art, 274, 292; acus for attaching the pall, found in the tomb of Archbishop Wolstan, 292, 339; unique impression on vellum and other specimens exhibited by the Hon. R. Curzon, 292; specimens exhibited by the Rev. Dr. Wellesley, ib.; exhibited by Mr. Slade, 293; by Mr. Shirley, Mr. Waterton, Mr. Colnaghi, and Mr.

VOL. XIX.

- Mayer, 293; baldrick ornamented with armorial escutcheons exhibited by Mr. Morgan, ib.; sword with ornaments of Tula work exhibited by Sir Philip de M. Grey Egerton, ib.; Scymetar, Circassian dagger, &c., with ornaments in niello, 301; Memoir on niello by Mr. Waterton, 323; rings in his collection ornamented with niello, 325, 327, 332, 336; various examples noticed, a shrine at Hildesheim, &c., 327; objects of Irish workmanship, ib., 328, 339; Scottish brooches, 328; the Dunvegan cup, ib.; reliquary at Quedlinburg, ib.; paten at Hanover, ib.; niello at Hildesheim, 329; at Cluny, ib.; recipe for the composition of niello given by Theophilus, 330; superaltar belonging to the Very Rev. Dr. Rock, ib.; German, Italian, and French nielli, 331; Italian chalice belonging to the Very Rev. Dr. Rock, 332; reliquary and cross at St. Severino, ib.; various Italian specimens noticed, ib., 333; paxes executed by Pollajuolo, 334; origin of chalcography traced to the works in niello by Finiguerra, ib.; Vasari's account of the discovery, 335; notices of sulphur casts, &c., from nielli, ib.; impressions on paper, 336; ornaments and objects of personal use enriched with niello, ib.; the art practised by Cellini, 337; Russian nielli, ib.; collections formed by Sir Mark Sykes, Cicognara, &c., ib.; revival of the art by Castellani, 338; recent productions by Hardman and other English artificers, ib., 339; Anglo-Saxon and Irish specimens in the British Museum, ib.
- NORFOLK:—notice by Mr. Fitch of a mural painting of St. George at Norwich, 81; bronze rings, Roman coffin of lead, &c., found there, 88.
- NORTHAMPTONSHIRE:—bronze weight found at Croyland, 82; examination of documents cited by Ingulph, relating to Croyland Abbey, 114, 134; Memoir by Mr. Bloxam on effigies in Peterborough cathedral, 134.
- NORTHUMBERLAND:—examination of remains at Greaves Ash, 183; ditto on Brough Law, 184; enameled ornament found near the Roman Wall, 279; notices by Mr. Clayton of remains of a Roman bridge across North Tyne, 359.
- Northumberland, the Duke of, exhibits a miniature of the Duke of Buckingham, 296; two enamels by Essex, ib.; bronze weapons found near Corbridge, 363.

3 L

O.

Oliver, the Rev. Dr., proposed publication of his Parochial Antiquities of Devon, 192.

P.

Painting, mural, in St. Gregory's church, Norwich, 81.

Papworth, Mr., his Dictionary of Arms noticed, 191.

Parker, Archbishop, jewel presented to Queen Elizabeth by him, 146.

Parliaments, French version of the "Modus tenendi Parliamentum" exhibited by the Earl of Winchilsea, 187; memoir by Mr. Duffus Hardy on that document, 259.

Pass, Crispin, counters engraved by, 367. Penny-plate armour, notice of, 96.

Peterborough cathedral, memoir on sepulchral effigies there, 134; sculptured shrine of peculiar fashion there, 142.

Petrarch, portrait of, exhibited, 366.

Petrie, Mr. G., memoir by, on Maes How, in Orkney, 81; on a circular church at Orphir, Orkney, 85.

Porcelain, fine specimen of Chinese, exhibited by Mr. Addington, 301; notes by Mr. Franks on the manufacture at Chelsea, 340; Chinese porcelain, termed Gombroon ware, 342.

PORTRAITS:—one (as supposed) of Prince Arthur exhibited by Mr. D. Gurney, 83; of Henry Darnley, ib.: miniature of Queen Elizabeth, 152; cameo of her by Colderó, 154; portrait of her, formerly in Lord Northwick's collection, 155; miniature (as supposed) of the Duke of Marlborough by J. Forster, 181; of Jane Seymour exhibited by Mr. Carr, 187; of Zuinglius, 188; miniature of the Old Chevalier in tent-stitch exhibited by Mr. Waterton, ib.; miniatures by Zincke, Bone, and other enamellers, 295, 296.

POTTERY:—Roman, found at Newport, Isle of Wight, 169; urns from catacombs at Alexandria exhibited by Professor Donaldson, 171; ovoid urn found near Crediton, in Mr. Tucker's collection, 177; fragments of vessels found at Greaves Ash, Northumberland, 184; mediæval potteries discovered in Derbyshire by Mr. Jewitt, ib.; urn found on Clayton Hill, near Brighton, 185; Roman statuette of Venus found at Chester, 186; fragments of vessels found in caves in Weardale, 359; Samian ware found near Chesters, Northumberland, 362; resembling Celtic urns, found in tumuli on the Niagara river, 363; one-handed urn found at March, Isle of Ely, 364; similar urns found in Yorkshire and Oxfordshire, ib.; fragments of Roman, found near Ely, 365.

Potts, Mr., exhibits a copy of a Roman inscription at Chester, 186; statuette of Venus in white clay, a Roman legionary tile, and a leaden stamp found there, ib.

Pritchett, Mr., exhibits a panel of German painted glass, 174; choice specimens of iron work, and an Italian chasing in steel, ib.; plug bayonets, ib.; a gold pectoral cross, 295; chate-laine which belonged to Mary of Modena, ib.

PUBLICATIONS, ARCHEOLOGICAL. — proposed work on Scottish Seals, by Mr. H. Laing, 157, n., 402; Discoveries in Halicarnassus, by Mr. C. Newton, 166; proposed publication by Mr. J. G. Nichols, on Heraldry and Genealogy, 191; Mr. Papworth's Dictionary of Arms, ib.; Catalogue of the Museum at Caerleon, by Mr. E. Lee, 192, 302; Parochial Antiquities of Devon, by the Rev. Dr. Oliver, 192; proposed collection of Anglo-Saxon documents to be edited by Mr. Thorpe, ib.; Series of Public Documents at Paris in course of publication (Trésor des Chartes), 402; Architectural Sketches in Worcestershire, by Mr. Severn Walker, ib.; Letters, &c., of the Earl of Ormonde, to be edited by the Rev. J. Graves, ib.

Q.

QUEEN, Her most gracious Majesty the, The Lennox Jewel exhibited by her permission, 277; Russian Evangelary with enameled ornaments from her Library at Windsor Castle exhibited, 278.

R.

Rawlinson, Dr., his large collection of Italian seals in the Bodleian, 369.

Reade, the Rev. G. H., exhibits an Irish enameled bridle-bit, 280; an Irish brooch, 281.

Rhodes, the Rev. G., exhibits a watch

- supposed to have been a gift from Charles II., 181.
- Riley, Mr. H., Memoir by him on the History and Charters of Ingulphus, 32, 114.
- Rings, notices of several in the Arundel Collection, 9; mediæval ring set with an intaglio of a royal portraiture, 16; Florentine, with a remarkable cameo of Medusa, 110; Roman, and posy rings, &c., found in London, exhibited by Mr. Tite, 172; Italian, with talismanic legends in Mr. Waterton's collection, 180; gold signet with a coat of arms, ib.; ring set with a toadstone, and another with a fine intaglio on bloodstone, exhibited by His Eminence Cardinal Wiseman, 189; silver ring engraved with a crowned initial, found at Tenby, ib.; Irish, set with a cloisonné enamel, 281; gold rings ornamented with niello in the British Museum and in Mr. Waterton's collection, 285; ditto found near Peterborough, 326; ditto found in Lancashire, 327; Ethelwulf's ring found in Hampshire, ib.; Bishop Alhstan's ring found in Wales, and another nielloed ring found in Yorkshire, now at Copenhagen, ib.; remarkable ring in the Earl Fitzhardinge's possession, 328.
- Robartes, Mr., exhibits a leaden image found in Cornwall, 172.
- Rock, the Very Rev. Dr., superaltar in his possession, 330; chalice formerly belonging to Boniface VIII., 332.
- Rogers, Mr. J., exhibits enameled candlesticks, 291.
- Rolls, the Master of the, Documents, illuminated MS. Statutes of the Order of St. Michael, &c., exhibited by his permission, 288.
- Rolls, Mr., exhibits early German enamels, 283.
- ROMAN ANTIQUITIES:—urns, lamps, coins, &c., found at Wroxeter, 80; bronze statuettes of Mercury and Diana found there, 81; bronze representation of a bath found in Hampshire, 82; Memoir on Julius Cæsar's Landing read by Mr. W. Lloyd, 86; remains of a pharos at Dover, ib.; leaden coffin found at Norwich, 88; pottery, &c., found at Newport, Isle of Wight, 168; shaft at Lincoln described by Mr. Trollope, 169; bronze box in form of a faun's head, and gold rings exhibited by Mr. Tite, 172; fragment of sculpture found at Carlisle, 176; ovoid urn found at Crediton in Mr. Tucker's collection, 177; vases of bronze, glass, &c., found in Leicestershire, 182; inscription, leaden stamp, &c., found at Chester, 186; ivory consular diptych at Darmstadt, 232; dies for striking coins of Augustus, 258; enameled fibulæ found at Lincoln, 278; fac-simile of the enameled Bartlow vase exhibited, ib.; enameled fibulæ found at Caerleon, Kirkby Thore and Painswick, 279; enameled ornament found in a Station on the Roman Wall, ib.; enamels found in Italy, 280; enameled vase found near Ambleteuse, now in the British Museum, ib.; statuette found in Suffolk, presented to the British Museum by Lord Ashburton, 325; casket and nielloed objects found at Rome, ib.; gold ring, ib.; inscription on white marble found at Bath, 357; marble rare amongst Roman remains in England, 358; notice of a Station on Bowes Moor, ib.; of the foundations of a Roman bridge across the North Tyne, excavated by Mr. Clayton, 359; the apparatus called a lewis known to Roman builders, 360; coins, &c., found at the above-mentioned bridge, 362; pottery, coins and bronze fibulæ found near Ely, 365; coins found at Woolaston, near Chepstow, 394; altars found at Bisley, Gloucestershire, ib.
- Roots, Mr., exhibits Chinese enameled sceptres, 301.
- Russell, Mr. W., exhibits enameled vases, boxes, bonbonnières, &c., 294; Chinese enamels, 300; early specimens of Chelsea porcelain.
- Russell, the Rev. J. Fuller, exhibits a volume with the arms of Henry VIII., 174; an enameled plaque, 282.
- Rutherwyke, John, abbot of Chertsey, Register of his Acts exhibited, 350; corrody granted by the convent to his relatives, 353.

S.

- Sabre, with finger-guard, exhibited from the Arsenal at Woolwich, 318, 321.
- Samian ware, fragments found at the bridge across North Tyne, 362.
- Scale-armour, notices of, 93; Italian suit in the Tower Armory, 95.
- Scarth, the Rev. H., his account of Roman remains found at Path, 357.
- Scott, Sir Sibbald, exhibits a Battersea enamel, 29.
- Sculpture, ridged shrine in Peterborough cathedral, 142; early Norman specimens noticed, 143; statue of St. Benedict at Peterborough, 145; fragment of Roman at Carlisle, 177;

- oaken doors at the church of St. Maria in Capitolio, Cologne, 220.
See Effigy.
- SEALS:—seal of Edward III. called of the Griffin, 71, 73; Chinese seal of agate exhibited by Mr. Morgan, 83; privy-seals set with gems, 156; Carolingian seals set with antique intagli, ib. n.; privy-seal of King John, 157; seals with the device of a lion couchant, 158; with the head of St. John Baptist, ib.; seal of Thomas, Bishop of Man, 173; of the Abbey of Louth Park, Lincolnshire, ib.; of Sir William Eure, 174; of Edward the Confessor appended to a charter exhibited by the Earl of Winchelsea, 176; official seal of the Captain of the Isle of Wight, 180; silver seal of Thomas de Rokey by Mr. Waterton's collection, 181; of Simon Covell, ib.; numerous drawings of seals in the MS. collections formed for Lord Hatton by Dugdale, 187; silver seals of Sir T. More at Stonyhurst College, 292; seals of Chertsey Abbey and the abbots, 356; seal of Ysoude, daughter of Robert de Ulvesby, 367; of William de Boughes, ib.; of Roger de Welpen and Robert de Bury, &c., ib.; of the University of Padua, ib.; Venetian and other bullæ exhibited by Mr. Waterton, 368; antique intaglio set as a mediæval privy-seal, 369; impressions from Italian seals in the Bodleian library exhibited, ib.; seal of Wulstan, Bishop of Worcester, 392; of Ralph de Mortimer, attached in unusual manner, exhibited by Sir E. Lechmere, 393; proposed Publication by Mr. Laing on Scottish Seals, 157 n., 402.
- SEPULCHRAL ANTIQUITIES:—interment of the heart apart from the corpse, 26; excavations in the cemetery at Wroxeter, 80; leaden coffin found at Norwich, 88; Roman relics at Newport, Isle of Wight, 169; interment at Appleford, Berks, 365.
- Severn Valley, Memoir by Dr. Gnest on the English Conquest of the, 193.
- Shafts, Roman, at Lincoln, described by Mr. Trollope, 171.
- Shaw, Mr., exhibits drawings of choice enameled objects, 235.
- Shirley, M r., exhibits two nielli, 293; miniatures by Zincke, 295.
- Shurlock, Mr., his notices of discoveries at Chertsey Abbey, 167.
- Slade, Mr., exhibits an enameled book-cover, 283; a niello and impressions of nielli, 293.
- Smith, Mr. W. J. Bernhard, exhibits powder-flasks, touch-boxes, &c., 83; a helmet from the arsenal at Constantinople, 89; bronze weapon found in Lincolnshire, 91; oriental arms, ib.; a visor, powder-measure, spanner and bayonet, 173; German miners' axe, 175; Spanish rapiers, 180: an enameled ornament with coats of arms, 286; Russo-Greek tablet, and enameled mouth-pieces of pipes, 287; Circassian sabre with nielloed ornaments, 301; bronze Irish celt, and bronze weapon from the Thames, 364.
- Sneyd, the Rev. W., exhibits embroidered gloves, 189; a nautilus shell mounted in silver with nielloed ornament, &c., ib.
- Spear, iron, found at Chester, 186; at Ditton, 364.
- , bronze, found near Corbridge, 363; at Ditton, 364.
- Spectacles, early mention of, 159.
- Stone, weapons of, celt found near Honiton, 88; Irish celts, 92; maul head elaborately ornamented, found in North Wales, ib.; weapons or implements found in tumuli near the Niagara river, 363.
- Stonehenge, markings or symbols noticed on one of the stones, 77; fall of one of the trilithons, 79.
- Stonyhurst College, Sir Thomas More's seals preserved there, 292; his gold pectoral cross there, 336; gold pendant ornament which belonged to him preserved there, ib.
- Stubbs, the Rev. W., memoir by him on the Cathedral, Diocese, and Monasteries of Worcester, 236.
- Superaltar, with ornaments in niello, in possession of the Very Rev. Dr. Rock, 330.
- SURREY:—Notices of discoveries at Chertsey Abbey, 167; register of the acts of one of the abbots exhibited by Lord Clifford, 350; bronze and iron weapons found at Ditton, 364.
- SUSSEX:—ivory tablet found in Chichester cathedral, 88; monuments of the Caryll family at Harting, 91; memoirs on Chichester cathedral, Boxgrove church, and other churches, published by Mr. Mason, 175; iron rush-light holders formerly used in Sussex, 181; small urn found on Clayton Hill, 185; pendant ornament of vitrified paste, 186; enameled object found near Lewes, 281.
- Switzerland, notice of an effigy at Zurich, 1; die for Helvetian gold coins found at Avenches, 253.

Sword, bronze, found in the river Lea, Hertfordshire, 91. See Arms.
 Syon, gold Cross, formerly belonging to the abbess of, exhibited, 188.

T.

Talbot de Malahide, Lord, his remarks on ancient remains in the Orkneys, 81; announces arrangements for facility of access to the wills at Doctors' Commons, 182; his observations on the Special Exhibition of enamels, &c., 274; exhibits Irish enamels found at Lagore, 280; an enameled miniature and a miniature by Petitot, 296; a miniature of Frederick Prince of Wales, probably enameled at Battersea, 297.
 Talismanic virtues attributed to gems, 155, 158.
 Tate, Dr. G., his notice of markings or symbols upon Stonehenge, 77
 —, Mr., his account of remains excavated at Greaves Ash, Northumberland, 183.
 Tessellated pavement at St. Gereon's church, Cologne, 223.
 Thurnam, Dr., his remarks on markings or symbols found on Stonehenge, 79.
 Tigris, bronze helmet found in the bed of the river, 76.
 Tile, Roman, with the mark of the 20th legion, found at Chester, 186.
 Tiles, for decorative purposes, found at Chertsey Abbey, 168.
 Tite, Mr., his address on the decease of the Prince Consort, 84; exhibits various ancient relics, rings, &c., ib.
 Tower Armory, enameled Persian armour and arms from that collection exhibited, 301.
 Trollope, Mr. A., his account of Roman shafts at Lincoln, 169; exhibits Roman enameled fibulæ found there, 278.
 Tucker, Mr. C., ovoid urn found near Crediton in his collection, 177.
 Twopeny, Mr., exhibits a facsimile of the enameled vase found at Bartlow, 278.
 Tyne, North, remains of a Roman bridge crossing it near Chesters described by Mr. Clayton, 360.
 Tyszkiewicz, the Count, his notices of ancient earthworks, &c., in Lithuania, 85.

U.

Uriconium, probably called White Town by Llywarch Hên, 210; destroyed by Ceawlin, King of Wessex, 215. See Wroxeter.
 Urns. See Pottery.

W.

WALES:—Maul-head of stone elaborately ornamented, found near Corwen, 92; silver ring found at Tenby, 189.
 Walford, Mr. W. S., Memoir by him on a diminutive effigy of a bishop at Abbey Dore, 24.
 Waller, Mr., exhibits illustrations of enamel applied to sepulchral brasses, 285.
 Watch, supposed to have been given by Charles II. to Captain Tattersell, 181; series of enameled watches exhibited by Mr. Morgan, 293; watch exhibited by the Earl Amherst, 294; cruciform watch exhibited by Mr. Whitehead, ib.; watch exhibited by Mr. Franks, ib.
 Waterton, Mr., exhibits German iron-work, 173; a dagger and a pistol found at Walton Hall, ib.; his observations on the art of niello, 175; exhibits a prick spur, gold rings, an enameled cross, and a steel sword-guard, 180; a perforated leaden disk, 189; portraiture of the Old Chevalier, ib.; enameled basins, 286; several specimens of niello, 293; Memoir by him on the art of niello, 323; rings in his collection ornamented with niello, 325, 327, 332, 336; leaden bullæ, 368.
 Way, Mr. Albert, his Notice of a Jewel presented by Archbishop Parker to Queen Elizabeth, 146; observations on an inventory of effects of Archbishop Bowet, 159; on an urn found in Sussex, 185; on a pendant object of vitrified paste found, ib., 186; his observations on the art of enamel, 274; exhibits a drawing of an enameled candlestick found at York, 291; his notice of a register of Chertsey Abbey in Lord Clifford's possession, 350.
 Weardale, antiquities found in a cavern there, 358.
 Webb, Mr., exhibits an ivory casket from Veroli, 88; specimens of enamel, 286, 290.
 Weight, of brass found at Croyland exhibited by Mr. Botfield, 82; notices of other mediæval weights, 83.
 Wellesley, the Rev. Dr., exhibits nielli, 292.
 Wellit, Mr. S., exhibits a Saxon situla found in Lincolnshire, 172.
 Wennall, the Rev. W., exhibits an enameled crucifix from Ushaw College, 288.
 Westmacott, Professor, exhibits a series of papal medals, 178; several Academy medals, 180.

- WESTMORELAND :—Notice of a Roman station on Bowes Moor, 358.
- Westwood, Professor, account of his visit to Treves, 89; notes of his tour in Western Germany, 218; his archaeological notes on Cologne, ib.; Mayence, 224; Frankfort, 227; Darmstadt, 230.
- Whitehead, Mr., exhibits enamels, 289; a cruciform watch, 294; a miniature by H. Bone, 296.
- WIGHT, ISLE OF :—Roman remains, pottery, &c., found near Newport, 168; lease of lands at Brading, with seal of the Captain of the Island, 180.
- Wilkins, Dr., his Notice of Roman remains found in the Isle of Wight, 168.
- Willis, the Rev. Professor, his Discourse on Worcester Cathedral, 381.
- Wills at Doctors' Commons, facilities of access conceded, 182.
- Wilson, Mr., exhibits various enamels, 290; a remarkable enamel by W. Craft, 291; enameled candlesticks, ib.; miniatures by Zincke, Peat, Bone, &c., 297; Battersea enamels, 298.
- WILTSHIRE :—markings or symbols on Stonehenge, noticed by Dr. Tate, 78.
- Winchilsea, the Earl of, exhibits a spurious charter of Edward the Confessor, 176; unique French version of the "Modus tenendi Parliamentum" in his possession, 182, 187, 259; exhibits a collection of drawings of monuments, painted glass, &c., made for Lord Hatton, by Dugdale, 186; copies of documents, seals, &c., from the same collection, 187; ceremonial of creation of Knights of the Bath, ib.
- Windus, Captain, his memoir on a Carrack belonging to the Knights of St. John, sheathed with lead, 90.
- Winnington, Sir T., MSS. in his library noticed, 393.
- Winston, Mr., exhibits drawings of an enameled casket, &c., 286.
- Wiseman, His Eminence Cardinal, exhibits a ring set with a toadstone and another with an intaglio on bloodstone, 189.
- Woolwich Armory, vambrace of buff leather preserved there, 93; sabre with finger-guard there, 318.
- WORCESTERSHIRE :—Memoir by the Rev. W. Stubbs on the Diocese and Monasteries of Worcester in the eighth century, 236; early monasteries at Bredon, Fladbury, &c., 246, 247, 252; Memoir by the Rev. C. H. Hartshorne, on Royal Councils at Worcester, 303; Meeting of the Institute at Worcester, 370; notice, by Mr. Hawkins, of the Worcester Mint, 388; report, by Mr. Burt, on depositories of documents at Worcester, 391; destruction of the Guesten Hall there, 384, 400; architectural sketches in Worcestershire, by Mr. Severn Walker, 402.
- Wroxeter, report by Dr. Johnson, on the Excavations there, 80; bronze figures of Mercury and Diana found there, 81; Survey of the city, presented by Mr. Hillary Davies, ib. See Uriconium.
- Wynne, Mr. W. W., exhibits an ivory folding tablet from Valle Crucis Abbey, 178; a set of silver counters engraved with royal portraits, 366.

Y.

- York, inventory of effects of Archbishop Bowet, in the Registry there, 158; enameled candlestick found there, 291.

Z.

- Zodiac, signs of, on a gateway at Remagen, 226.
- Zurich, effigy of a knight in the library there, 1; heraldic roll there, 7; bronze dodecahedron in the Museum, 83; pendant amulet set with an intaglio, 157; portrait of Zuinglius in the library, 188.

END OF VOL. XIX.