

CONTENTS

TWO RING DITCH EXCAVATIONS AT WILLINGTON, DERBYSHIRE, 2014 David Ingham	1
A MULTI-PHASE PREHISTORIC SITE IN A MIDDLE TRENT VALLEY LANDSCAPE: EXCAVATIONS AT ASTON HALL HOSPITAL, ASTON ON TRENT, DERBYSHIRE Paul Flintoft and Samantha Stein	35
WOODHALL MOATED SITE AND PARK, RISLEY, DERBYSHIRE Alan Palfreyman	46
CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF LATE MEDIEVAL POTTERY FROM TICKNALL Richard Jones	66
THE HOUSEHOLD ACCOUNTS OF THE CAVENDISH FAMILY OF HARDWICK Philip Riden	83
THE WARDSHIP AND MARRIAGE OF ROBERT BARLEY: AN ADDENDUM Terry Kilburn	111
THE LANDOWNERS OF SHARDLOW AND GREAT WILNE, 15th CENTURY TO 1924 Miriam Wood	112
THE EREWASH VALLEY COAL CARTEL: CAPITALIST EXPLOITATION IN THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION Stanley D. Chapman	160
INDEX	183

ILLUSTRATIONS

TWO RING DITCH EXCAVATIONS AT WILLINGTON, DERBYSHIRE, 2014

Fig.1	Site location	2
Fig.2	Excavated archaeological features within the development area	3
Fig.3	Plan of Area 1 and selected section drawings	4
Fig.4	Plan of Area 2 and section drawings of field systems	7
Fig.5	Plan of hengi-form monument in Area 2	8
Fig.6	Selected section drawings from hengi-form monument	9
Fig.7	Selected flint artefacts	16
Fig.8	Fired clay object OA9	18
Fig.9	Selected Neolithic and Early Bronze Age pottery	20
Fig.10	Selected Late Bronze Age pottery	24
Plate.1	Section of pit F1023 (G16), looking north	6
Plate. 2	Grave G7, looking south-west, with top of coffin exposed on left and its backfill excavated on the right	11
Plate. 3	Section of pit G18, looking north	13
Plate. 4	Late Bronze Age loom weight OA10	19
Table. 1	Radiocarbon dates	14
Table. 2	Analysis of Late Bronze Age sherds by feature and fabric	27
Table. 3	Charcoal present in sub-sample	28

A MULTI-PHASE PREHISTORIC SITE IN A MIDDLE TRENT VALLEY LANDSCAPE: EXCAVATIONS AT ASTON HALL HOSPITAL, ASTON ON TRENT, DERBYSHIRE

Fig.1	Location of site	36
Fig. 2	Areas excavated	38

WOODHALL MOATED SITE AND PARK, RISLEY, DERBYSHIRE

Fig.1	Woodhall location map	47
Fig.2	The northern part of "An Exact Mmapp of Risley and Breaston", surveyed by Matthias Aston in 1722	50
Fig.3	An outline drawing of Fig. 3, turned to show North at the top and with the field boundaries added to the 1722 map	51
Fig.4	A picture of Risley Hall taken from a woodcut of a lost 17th century painting	52
Fig.5	An extract from Christopher Saxton's map of Derbyshire of 1577	53
Fig.6	Field map compiled from 1898-90 OS maps, showing boundaries of Woodhall Park in 1577 and 1587	54
Fig.7	A plan of the Woodhall moat, showing the position of the test-pits	56
Plate. 1	An aerial photo showing the Woodhall footprint to the west	48
Plate. 2	The Risley Lanx. A copy of the late Roman silver plate ploughed up on Silver Hill in 1729	53
Plate. 3	Looking south along the ditch which formed the Woodhall Park boundary pre 1577	55
Plate 4	Partially reconstructed small jug, the only vessel from	57
Plate. 5	Bearded anthropomorphic face sherd from the side of a jug of the 13th to 14th century	58
Plate. 6	Rounded glazed jug from test pit 1. 13th to 14th century	59
Plate. 7	Bowl, jug and cooking pot rim sherds from 13th to 17th century	59
Appendix 1	The Finds	62

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF THE LATE MEDIEVAL POTTERY FROM TICKNALL

Appendix A

Fig.1	PC plot of the A1-normalised compositions of the Ticknall Midlands Purple (TMP) and Cistercian ware (TCT) of this study and Ticknall Midlands Purple (TMPV) and Cistercian ware (TCSV) of Vince's study	68
Fig.2	PC plot of the A1-normalised compositions of Ticknall Midlands Purple (TMP), Cistercian ware (TCT), Hartsholme CM Whiteware (HCM), Hartsholme CM Purple (HCP), Harpur Avenue CM Orangeware (TCO), Hilvers Coton CM Whiteware (CW) of this study and of Vince's Coal Measures ware from Rawmarsh (RA), Firsby (F), Rotherham (RO), D (Doncaster), Barnburgh (B0) and Croydon (CR)	68
Fig.3	PC plot of the A1-normalised composition of samples from Hartshorne, Ticknall and Chilvers Coton (CW)	69
Fig.4	PC plot of the A1-normalised compositions of samples from Hartshorne and Ticknall	69

Appendix B

Table. 1	Results of analysis of Ticknall samples selected for this study	70
Table. 2	Alan Vince's ICP-MS data used in this study	75

THE LANDOWNERS OF SHARDLOW AND GREAT WILNE, 15th CENTURY TO 1924

Fig.1	Extract from The Facsimile of Burdett's Map of Derbyshire 1791	113
Fig.2	Extract from the Ordnance Survey map, scale 25 inches to the mile 2nd edition 1901	114
Fig.3	Schedule from an account of lands in Shardlow and Wilne...[1757]	134
Fig.4	Extract redrawn from the Tithe Map for Shardlow and Wilne 1850, showing the village of Shardlow	144
Fig.5	Extract redrawn from the Tithe Map for Shardlow and Wilne 1850, showing the hamlet of Wilne	145

THE EREWASH VALLEY COAL CARTEL: CAPITALIST EXPLOITATION IN THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

Fig.1	The Erewash Valley Coalfield in 1739	162-163
Plate. 1	Brinsley colliery headstock	168
Plate. 2	Erewash Valley coal barges moored in the Newark Navigation in the nineteenth century	169
Plate. 3	Shipleigh Hall, near Ilkeston, the home of the Miller Mundy family	171
Table. 1	Erewash Valley Coal production before the Railway Age	161
Table 2	Erewash Collieries in 1739 and 1764	164
Table 3	Membership of the Erewash Valley Coal Masters' Association in 1802	167
Table 4	Principal Markets for Erewash Valley Coal, 1845 and 1867 (tons per annum)	170
Table 5	The Coal Trade of Newark and the Trent Villages, 1791-1867	175
Appendix A	Profits of Barber, Walker & Co., 1797-1820	177
Appendix B	Profits of Edward Miller Mundy's Collieries at Shipleigh (Derbys) 1780-1803	178
Appendix C	Erewash Canal Dividends	179-180