available!

The scope of The London Journal is broad, embracing all aspects of metropolitan society past and present, including comparative studies. The journal is multidisciplinary and is intended to interest all concerned with the understanding and enrichment of London and Londoners: historians, geographers, economists, sociologists, social workers, political scientists, planners, educationalists, archaeologists, conservationists, architects, and all those taking an interest in the fine and performing arts, the natural environment and in commentaries on metropolitan life in fiction as in fact.

SPECIAL ISSUE — POST-WAR FASHION IN LONDON

The first issue of 2006 will be a special issue, concentrating on post-war fashion in London, guest-edited by David Gilbert of Royal Holloway. This is set to be an exciting issue focusing on a number of topics including: Networks of Fashion Consumption in London's West End; Fashion, Consumption and the Remaking of the West End; Dinosaurs of Retailing? Swinging Boutiques and the Modern Store: Designing Shops for Post-War London; and Department Stores in London's West End, 1945–1982.
