

New College Oxford 4467

Terrier of such of the demesne of New College in Akeley cum Stockholt now in the occupation of Florence Smyth, widow, 29 March 1623.

1 close of arable and swerd ground called New Close containing by estimation 9 acres, south part adjoining partly a little parcel of college demesne called the penyard and partly to the close and backside of Florence Smyth late Quintins and partly to the orchard and backside of Thomas Webb, north part adjoining partly a close of Thomas Hobbs and partly pound greene also being parcel of the demesne, west part adjoining the way leading from the south street of Akeley to church street, and east part adjoining a balk parcel of college demesne which lies outside the hedge of the said close extending in length from south street to pound green and in breadth to the land late of Robert Iremongers.

1 little parcel of ground hedged about called the penyard containing by estimation 1 rood abutting west upon Quintins Close and east upon the said balk, south street lying on the south part, and New Close on the north.

1 little parcel of ground containing by estimation $\frac{1}{2}$ rood called pound green adjoining to the north hedge of New Close and extending to a highway lying on the north part of the said green.

1 little piece of arable and ley ground containing by estimation $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres adjoining to the north-west side of the close of Thomas Budd and extending from thence in breadth to the south-east end of a balk called Bushy balk, the upper end of which furlong is meered out from the upper end of the said close to the south corner of the said balk and the nether end abuts on the highway leading from pound green towards Leckhampstead.

1 other little piece of arable containing by estimation $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres lying between Bushy balk and the said highway, the south-east head of which abuts on the north-west side of the abovesaid little piece and the north-west head on the said highway.

Greater part of Bushy balk towards the north as it is now meered out with meerestones.

1 piece of arable and swerd ground called Neales Hill with a balk on the west side thereof containing by estimation 5 acres lying between the highway leading towards Lillingstone Dayrell lying on the north-east side thereof and the glebe land on the west, north end abutting on a gutter running between the said piece and a meadow parcel of demesne called Kingssale, and south end partly upon the said highway and partly upon the headland of Thomas Cooke.

3 lands containing by estimation $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres lying together on the furlong called Pinnock Hill between the glebe land lying on the east, the land of Thomas Ingram on the west, south end abutting on the headland of Thomas Cooke and north end on the meadow called Kingssale.

5 ridges of land containing by estimation 1 acre 1 rood lying together at Blackhedge between the land of Robert Nevill lying on the east side and the glebe land on the west, north end abutting on a head ley late of Robert Iremonger and south end of 3 of them abutting on headland of Richard Ingram and of other 2 upon headland of Thomas Hobbs.

2 ridges containing by estimation 3 roods lying on the same furlong next to the highway leading to Lillingstone Dayrell, the glebe land lying on the east side thereof.

1 furlong of arable called 12 acres with a balk of grass ground on the west part thereof containing by estimation 14 acres; 1 furlong of arable called Netherway with a little piece of swerd ground on the west part thereof containing by estimation 6 acres; 1 piece of meadow ground called Netherway containing by estimation $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres; and 1 other piece of meadow called Kingssale containing by estimation 2 acres, lying altogether, glebe land on east, glebe land partly and partly land of William Lambart gentleman and partly the wood hedge on the west, Kingssale gutter on the south, and land of William Lambart called park piece partly and partly land of Thomas Hobbs on north.

1 piece of ley ground called Barne leyes containing by estimation 5 acres abutting west upon a coppice of William Lambart gentleman and east upon 4 leyes of glebe land, 1 ley of Richard Ingram, 1 ley late of Robert Iremonger, 1 ley of Thomas Hens, and 1 ley parcel of college demesne, meadow close of William Lambart called Stockholt meadow on north, and land of Thomas Hobbs partly and partly land of William Lambart called park piece on south.

2 leys containing by estimation 1 rood abutting west on Barne leyes and east upon the highway from Akeley to Lillingstone Dayrell, glebe land lying on north side, and nether end of netherway meadow being parcel of demesne on south.

1 other ley or balk called Bushy balk containing by estimation 1 rood abutting west on Barne leyes and east on the said highway, land of Thomas Hens on the north and a ley of Richard Ingrams on south.

1 piece of bushy ground called Wise plack corner containing by estimation 4 acres lying in Stockings, a parcel of ground called also Wise plack corner being heretofore copyhold ground of John Davy unenclosed and now ground of William Lambart gentleman and enclosed and taken into his pasture called Stockholt lying on west part, and a piece of bushy ground called towne ground but not known to be any particular man's ground on east, and part of 2 closes of Thomas Dayrell esq. on north, and pasture of William Lambart called Stockholt on south.

1 other piece of bushy ground containing by estimation 3 acres lying in Stockings eastwards from but not adjoining to abovesaid piece of bushy ground, between land of William Lambart lying on west and a piece of bushy ground called town ground on east, north end abutting a piece of bushy ground of William Lambart in Stockings and south end a piece of arable of Thomas Ingram.

1 piece of bushy ground containing by estimation 2 acres lying in Stockings eastwards from but not adjoining to abovesaid piece, between land of William Lambart on west and land of William partly and partly certain bushy ground called town ground on east, abutting north upon a little close of Thomas Dayrell now or heretofore part of Teggs Field and south partly upon certain bushy ground in Stockings called town ground and partly upon ground of William Lambart.

1 piece of ground called Chadwell consisting of 3 little furlongs of arable containing by estimation 12 acres and of leyes meadow and bushy ground containing by estimation another 12 acres and 1 little piece of meadow ground called Millditch corner containing by estimation 2 acres, lying altogether, common brook partly and partly certain glebe meadow called the parsons hookes lying on east, highway from Akeley to Lillingstone Lovell and partly a close of Thomas Cooke called Cookes grove on west, glebe land partly and partly a furlong called St Mary furlong on south, and part of cow pasture called Stockings partly and partly a close called Webbs and Bennetts Sart and partly a close of Emer Bilcliffe gentleman called Alders Close on north.

Note that in Chadwell after 2 leyes and 3 lands next within the hedge by the highway to Lillingstone, the parson has 2 lands and 1 ley eastward from the said 2 leyes and 3 lands with hades to said 2 lands and 1 ley belonging, all of which contain by estimation 1 acre.

1 little round piece of meadow containing about 4 poles sometime lying with Chadwell meadow and now within meadow of Anthony Greenway esq. called Longmeade being heretofore encroached and gained from Chadwell meadow by the violence of the brook.

1 other little round piece of meadow containing about 2 poles sometime lying with Millditch corner and now within meadow of Peter Wentworth esq. called town acres meadow being heretofore encroached and gained from Millditch corner by the violence of the brook.

1 whole furlong of arable called Longhill (saving 4 outmost lands at north-east side) containing by estimation 10 acres lying between meadow called Norman slade on north-west, land of Thomas Hobbs on north-east, abutting south-west on highway leading from church end of Akeley towards Leckhampstead, and south-east partly on headland of Thomas Budd and partly on land of Thomas Ingram called Worthy piece.

1 furlong of arable called Longbreach containing by estimation 14 acres and hades belonging thereto containing by estimation $\frac{1}{2}$ acre adjoining to nether end of said furlong lying between highway from south end of Akeley to Lillingstone Lovell on north-west, glebe land partly and partly another furlong of demesne called Churchill on south-east, south-west end abutting on highway from Akeley to Leckhampstead, and north-east end partly on Hewards meade and partly on furlong of arable (Shorten lond) which adjoins east side of Hewards meade.

1 furlong of arable called Churchill containing by estimation 3 acres beginning at glebe land which lies on north-east side of footway leading from Newslade to Leckhampstead and extending from glebe south-west to town furlong lying at Gallowway, south-east end abutting partly on land of widow Clarke and partly on land of John Cooke and partly on land of Richard Ingram, and north-west end upon furlong called Longbrech partly and partly on piece of meadow called Newslade.

1 furlong of arable called Norton on the hill containing by estimation 10 acres lying between glebe land on north-west side and meadow called Heywards meade partly and partly 2 hades of Thomas Hens on south-east, south-west end abutting highway from Akeley to Lillingstone Lovell, and north-east end on town furlong called Farnell furlong.

1 little piece of every year's meade called Berrysett containing by estimation 3 roods, brook lying on north-east, and part of furlong called St Mary furlong and part of one other furlong called Farnell furlong lying on south-west, and land of Thomas Hobbs on south-east.

1 furlong of arable called Short brech and a little piece of grass ground adjoining containing by estimation 9 acres lying between a close of Thomas Davy on north, glebe land partly and partly land of Sir Edward Tyrell on south, east part abutting on highway from Akeley to Leckhampstead, and west end partly on land of Thomas Davy and partly on close of John Phillips esq. called the Sart of ... [MS left blank].

1 piece of arable and swerd ground containing by estimation 3 acres lying in Lye field and called the piece behind the parsons, parsonage close lying on north side, close of William Lambart called Kingstrupp on south, east end abutting on land of Thomas Davy called Skynners croft, and west end partly on land of Thomas Hobbs and partly on land of Thomas Ingram.

1 piece of arable containing by estimation 12 acres and 2 acres by estimation of ley and furze ground lying together in Lye field and called by name of Long Lye or Kingstrupp furlong, between glebe land on east, 1 ley of furze of Thomas Hobbs on west, north head abutting on highway from Akeley to Lamport, and south head partly on land of Robert Norman called Deermore piece and partly on land of William Lambart called Kingstruppe.

1 furlong of arable in Lye field called wood furlong containing by estimation 6 acres and certain leyes called Cockett well leyes containing by estimation 3 acres adjoining to east side of said furlong, close of Thomas Ingram on east, partly land of Thomas Webb partly land of Thomas Bennett and partly 1 piece of common furze ground on west, south end abutting on highway from Akeley to Lamport, and north end on land of Thomas Davy called Lady acre.

New College Oxford 1287

Terrier of demesne lands and of Ferney Close in Akeley cum Stockholt leased by New College to William Smith, gentleman, 20 December 1715.

A piece of arable land called Long Ly (as it is now enclosed) abutting east on Ly field, west on Bysell furze, north on Buckingham road, south on part of William Smith's freehold called Deermore containing 9 acres 2 roods 36 square poles.

A pasture called Cacot Well Leys and Hill Close (as now divided) containing 8 acres 3 roods 24 square poles, abutting east on Ly Close, west on Bysell furze, north on a ground called Lady acre, south on Ly field.

A pasture ground called Barn Leys containing 6 acres 26 square poles, abutting east on Akeley field, west on Spoil coppice, north on Stockholt grounds, south on Hobb's pightle and on part of William Smith's freehold land called Barn piece.

Another pasture ground called Netherway containing 8 acres 38 square poles (as it is now divided), abutting east on Akeley field, west on Barn piece and Wood hedge, north on Barn piece, south on 12 acres.

The said 12 acres (as it is now divided into 2 pasture grounds) containing 16 acres 1 rood 29 square poles, abutting east on Akeley field, west on Wood hedge, north on Netherway, south on Akeley field and on land called Snails Hill.

The said Snails Hill, a pasture ground containing 5 acres 38 square poles, abutting east and west on Akeley field, north on 12 acres, south on Akeley town.

A piece of arable land called Great Long Hill containing 8 acres 1 square pole, abutting east, north and south on Akeley field, west on the highway.

A pasture ground called Little Longhill containing 3 acres 15 square poles, abutting east on the highway, west on a piece of land called Ironmonger's piece, north on Akeley field, south on Budd's alias Ashwells Close.

Another pasture ground called Norton on the hill containing 8 acres 12 square poles, abutting east, west and north on Akeley field, south on Howards Mead.

A piece of arable and pasture ground (as it is now divided into 2 closes) called Great Breach containing 12 acres 3 roods 24 square poles, abutting east on Howards Mead, west on the highway, north and south on Akeley field.

A pasture ground called Little Breach containing 6 acres 2 roods 17 square poles, abutting east on the highway, west on a ground called the Sart, north on Akeley field and Akeley town, south on one of Leckhampstead's grounds.

Another pasture ground called New Close containing 9 acres 1 rood 2 square poles, abutting east on Ironmonger piece, west on a highway called the Church Balk, north on Akeley town, south on part of William Smith's copyhold land called Quinton's Cottage Close and on a little piece of land called penyard.

The said penyard containing about 20 square poles, abutting east on Ironmongers piece, west on Quinton's Cottage Close, north on New Close, south on the highway.

Pound Green, a small piece of land containing about 40 square poles, abutting east on the highway, west on Hill's Garden, south on part of New Close, north on the highway.

The land called the Chadwells being arable pasture and meadow consisting of 4 closes (as they are now divided) containing in the whole 35 acres 2 roods 23 square poles, abutting east on the brook and Parsons Hooks, west on Akeley Stocking Common, north on a piece of land called the Sart, south on Akeley field.

A piece of meadow ground called Berry Set lying in Akeley field containing about 2 roods, abutting east on the brook, west, north and south on Akeley meadow.

A little close called Calves Close containing 2 acres 1 rood 27 square poles, abutting east on a piece of land called Skinners Croft, west on Ly field, north on the highway, south on William Smith's freehold land called King Strops.

One piece of Bushy ground called Wise plack corner containing by estimation 4 acres lying in Stockings on a parcel of ground called also Wise plack corner being heretofore the copyhold grounds of John Davy unenclosed and now the ground of William Lambert gentleman and enclosed and taken into his pasture called Stockholt lying on the west part thereof and a piece of Bushy ground called the town ground but not known to be any particular man's ground on the east and part of two closes of Thomas Dayrell esq. lying on the north part thereof and the pasture late of William Lambart (now Lord Salisbury) called Stockholt on the south.

One other piece of Bushy ground containing by estimation 3 acres lying in Stockings eastward from but not adjoining to the said piece called Wise plack corner between the land of William Lambart in Stockings lying on the west side thereof and the land of William Lambart partly and partly a piece of Bushy ground called the town ground but not known to be any particular man's ground on the east, the north end abuts on a pasture of Thomas Dayrell called Horseclose and the south end on a piece of arable land of Francis Turpin.

One other piece of Bushy ground containing by estimation 3 acres lying in Stockings eastward from but not adjoining to the said piece of Bushy ground between the land of William Lambart on the west and a piece of Bushy ground called the town ground but not known to be any particular man's ground on the east, the north end abutting on a piece of Bushy ground of William Lambart in Stockings and the south end on a piece of arable land of Thomas Ingram.

One piece of Bushy ground containing by estimation 2 acres lying in Stockings eastward from but not adjoining to the said piece between the land of William Lambart on the west and the land of William Lambart partly and partly certain Bushy ground called the town ground but not known to be any particular man's ground on the east, abutting north on a little close of Thomas Dayrell now or heretofore part of Teggs field and south partly on certain Bushy grounds in Stockings called the town ground but not known to be any particular man's ground and partly on the ground of William Lambart.

Ferney Close, a little pasture ground containing about 3 acres, abutting east on Winters meadow, west on Stow park, north on the road, south on Stockholt woods.