Berks Archæological and Architectural Society.

Conference of Archæological Society.

HE second Congress of Archæological Societies in union with the Society of Antiquaries was held at Burlington House on July 15th, Dr. Evans, President of the Society of Antiquaries, in the chair. The Berks Society was represented by the Secretary. The Report of the Parish Registers and Records Committee was discussed and suggestions made for the transcription and publication of Parish Registers. The subject of an archæological survey of England by counties, or districts, was brought forward, and a Standing Committee was appointed for the conduct of the Annual Conferences. We shall endeavour in our own county to carry out the directions of the Conference, and we hope that much permanent benefit may be conferred on archæological pursuits by the valuable suggestions which were made.
