THE
HISTORY OF LAMBOURN CHURCH,

BY JOHN FOOTMAN, M.A.

ELLIOT STOCK, 62, PATERNOSTER ROW, LONDON, E.C.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"A carefully compiled contribution to local ecclesiastical history, containing, among much other interesting and more solid matter, a very entertaining account of a certain Mr. William Bush."—Times.

"Lambourn has annals of considerable age and interest, and Mr. Footman has set about telling its history in a thorough-going manner. . . . He is to be complimented on his method and on his pleasant literary style as well as on his industry. . . . The story will be found to be one of great local and no small general interest."—Scotsman.

"We heartily congratulate the author on the production of a volume of so much interest and merit. . . . The volume is handsomely bound and printed, and admirably equipped with a series of illustrations and plans, showing the architectural changes the fabric has undergone from time to time, and should find a place in the library of everyone who is interested in the ecclesiastical and general history of the country."—Newbury Weekly News.

"Likely to prove a valuable addition to the local records of Berkshire. Written with scholarly attention to detail, and full of interesting and original information."—Reading Mercury.

"A complete and interesting history. Written in a clear and unpretentious style."—Morning Post.

"The work is really a considerable addition to the ecclesiastical history of Berkshire, and it has been admirably compiled, no pains being spared to verify quotations from the documents named."—Western Mercury.

"An admirably written account of the Church of a sequestered little Berkshire town, from the time of Canute downwards. Its interest is, of course, chiefly but Mr. Footman has done his work so well that the book is both readable and instructive, qualities which are not always to be attributed to compilations of this kind."—Literary World.
