

List of Figures

Chapter 1

- 1.1 Study area
- 1.2 Solid geology
- 1.3 Drift geology
- 1.4 Relief and drainage
- 1.5 Soils of the study area
- 1.6 Agricultural land classification

Chapter 2

- 2.1 Site location and places named in the text
- 2.2 Aerial photograph of cropmarks at Ledston, West Yorkshire (after Roberts 2005)
 - 2.2.1 Aerial photograph of cropmarks at Wattle Syke, Collingham, West Yorkshire (copyright WYAAS)
- 2.3 Aerial photograph of 'brickwork' cropmarks at Rossington, South Yorkshire (after Riley 1980)
- 2.4 Results of a geophysical (magnetometer) survey at Scorcher Hills Lane, Burghwallis, South Yorkshire (after Webb and Rose 2004)
- 2.5 Results of cropmark plotting, geophysical survey, fieldwalking and excavation to the north-east of Garforth, West Yorkshire (after Martin 2001)
- 2.6 Settlement and field systems revealed by excavation at West Moor Park, Armthorpe, South Yorkshire
- 2.7 Settlement and field systems revealed by excavation at Topham Farm, Sykehouse, South Yorkshire (after Roberts 2003)
- 2.8 Round barrows, trackways and field systems as revealed by cropmarks and geophysical survey at Colton, West Yorkshire (copyright WYAAS; after Boucher 1996)
- 2.9 Unenclosed settlement at South Elmsall, West Yorkshire
- 2.10 Iron Age pit alignment at Ferrybridge, West Yorkshire (after Roberts 2005)
- 2.11 Becca Banks, Aberford, West Yorkshire (after Roberts et al. 2001)
- 2.12 Castle Hill, Wentbridge, North Yorkshire as portrayed on the first edition Ordnance Survey mapping of 1853
- 2.13 Geophysical (magnetometer) survey of parts of the Rossington Bridge forts, South Yorkshire (after Van de Noort and Ellis 1997)
- 2.14 Aerial photograph of the defended enclosure at Scaftworth, Nottinghamshire (after Van de Noort and Ellis 1997)

- 2.15 The Roman road network of the study area (after Margary 1973)
- 2.16 The Iron Age/Romano-British enclosure at Swillington Brickworks, West Yorkshire
- 2.17 Iron Age/Romano-British enclosure complex at Stile Hill, Colton, West Yorkshire
- 2.18 The enclosure and field system at Byram Park, Brotherton, North Yorkshire
- 2.19 The enclosure and field system at Balby Carr, Doncaster, South Yorkshire (after Rose and Roberts 2006)
- 2.20 The palisade enclosure at South Elmsall, West Yorkshire
- 2.21 Roman Enclosure at Ferrybridge, West Yorkshire

Chapter 5

- 5.0 National Mapping Project areas

Chapter 6

- 6.0 Study area showing locations and sites mentioned in the text
 - 6.0.1 Study area showing locations and sites mentioned in the text (key)
- 6.1 Distribution of Neolithic and Bronze Age monuments
- 6.2 Newton Kyme and Ferrybridge Henges and associated monuments
- 6.3 Neolithic and Bronze Age monuments
- 6.4 Distribution of strip fields, mixed fields and pit alignments
- 6.5 Strip field systems and mixed field systems
- 6.6a Distribution of trackways
- 6.6b Examples of trackways
- 6.7 Examples of passing places (1:2500 scale)
- 6.8 Examples of open areas
- 6.9 Examples of curvilinear enclosures
- 6.10 Examples of D-shaped enclosures
- 6.11 Distribution of rectilinear and curvilinear enclosures
- 6.12 Examples of extensive enclosure groups
- 6.13 Examples of enclosures with trackway entrances
- 6.14 Distribution of different types of enclosures
- 6.15 Examples of broad-ditched enclosures
- 6.16 Examples of enclosures with outer compounds
- 6.17 Examples of field corner enclosures
- 6.18 Contexts of field corner enclosures

- 6.19 Examples of enclosures with multiple circuits
- 6.20 Examples of possible shrines or ritual enclosures
- 6.21 Distribution of Iron Age forts, Roman forts and fortlets and Roman roads
- 6.22 Examples of Roman forts and fortlets
- 6V.1 Contour model draped with aerial photograph mapping looking north from Thorner towards Wetherby
- 6V.2 Contour model draped with aerial photograph mapping looking north from Castleford towards Cock Beck
- 6V.4 Contour model draped with aerial photograph mapping looking north from the River Dearne towards the River Aire
- 6V.5 Contour model draped with aerial photograph mapping looking north from Cantley towards Stainforth
- 6V.6 Contour model draped with aerial photograph mapping looking north from Harworth towards Stainforth

Chapter 7

- 7.0 Figure conventions
- 7.1 Distribution of quarries by type
 - 7.1.1 Extent of quarry areas
- 7.2 Firgreen and Highmoor Quarries (1 and 2)
- 7.3 Swillington Brickworks (3)
- 7.4 Moss Carr Wood Quarry (4)
- 7.5 Altofts Brickworks and Newlands Lane Quarry (5)
- 7.6 Park Balk Quarry and Darrington Quarries (6 and 16)
- 7.7 Nostell Brickworks (7)
- 7.8 Brackenhill Quarries (8)
- 7.9 Smaws, Jackdaw Crag and Old London Road Quarries (9, 10 and 11)
- 7.10 Copley Lane and Sherburn Quarries (12 and 13)
- 7.11 Betteras Hill and Foxcliffe Quarries (14 and 15)
- 7.12 Went Edge Quarry (17)
- 7.13 Campsall and Suttonfield Quarries (18 and 19)
- 7.14 Hatfield Quarry (20)
- 7.15 Cadeby and Warmsworth Quarries (21 and 22)
- 7.16 Wroot Road and Bank End Quarries (23 and 24)
- 7.17 Austerfield Quarry (25)
- 7.18 Batty Holt/Glen/Holme Hall/Stainton Quarries (26)

- 7.19 Maltby Brickworks (27)
- 7.20 Harris Quarry (28)
- 7.21 Finningley, Misson and Newington Quarries (29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36)
- 7.22 Styrrup Quarry (37)
- 7.23 Serlby Sand Quarry (38)
- 7.24 Scrooby North and Mattersey Quarry (39 and 40)
- 7.25 Newthorpe and Peckfield Quarries (41)
- 7.26 Methley Quarry (42)
- 7.27 Barnsdale Bar and Long Lane Quarries (43)
- 7.28 Hazel Lane and Skelbrooke Quarries (44)
- 7.29 Brodsworth Quarry (45)
- 7.30 Armthorpe, Dunsville and Nutwell Lane Quarries (46)
- 7.31 Hayfield Farm, Hurst Plantation, Stripe Road and Stancil Quarries (47)

Chapter 8

- 8.0 Location plan of sites mentioned in the text
 - 8.0.1 Study area showing cropmark evidence over geology
 - 8.0.2 Study area south of the River Don (1: 85 000)
 - 8.0.3 Study area south of the River Don, geology (1: 85 000)
- 8.1 Distribution of prehistoric finds across the study area
 - 8.1.1 Pit alignments and their possible associations with ritual monuments
 - 8.1.2 Distribution of Roman finds across the study area
- 8.2 Roman roads – revised map (not included)
- 8.3 Supposed route of Roman road 729 west of Tadcaster
- 8.4 The relationship of Roman roads with Iron Age field systems
- 8.5 Prehistoric linear defences on the Don west of Doncaster
- 8.6 Iron Age forts and possible territorial sub-units (not included)
- 8.7 Earlier prehistoric enclosures and meandering trackways

Chapter 9

- 9.1 Terrain model of the whole study area

[Note: The above are all token figures that will be subject to revision in the event of publication]