POSTSCRIPT.

MR. C. D. E. FORTNUM'S PAPER ON EARLY CHRISTIAN GEMS.

On again examining better impressions and the engraving of the gem described at page 169, line 9, et seq., Mr. King finds that he has here given a wrong reading, "in consequence", he writes, "of my examining the letters through a defective transcript. It reads NEMECIC H KYPIA MEFAAH, and thereby addresses the invocation to Nemesis and not to Isis, which adds greatly to the interest and rarity of the gem."

The globular fruit is, doubtless the apple, the straight line above and those below the left arm may represent the bridle, the gryphon holds the wheel, attributes of Nemesis.

C. D. E. FORTNUM.

MR. J. V. GREGORY'S PAPER ON DEDICATION NAMES OF ANCIENT CHURCHES IN DURHAM AND NORTHUMBERLAND.

The church of Alnwick is dedicated to St. Michael only. The addition of St. Mary occurs in Randal (1778); but it has apparently arisen from a chantry dedication.

Alnuvick abbey was dedicated to St. Mary only, as appears from its charters. The addition of St. James is also from Randal.

The name of ST. WALERIC, though now extinct, existed on the Northumberland coast, in the twelfth century, in a chapel at Newbiggin-by-the-Sea; and the church of Long-Houghton is said to have been originally St. Peter and St. Waleric. St. Waleric (in French St. Valery), a shepherd of Auvergne who became abbot of Leuconay, now St. Valery-sur-Somme, and died about 619, was considered the patron of the mariners on the coast of Picardy.

Auckland Castle.--The present chapel, which dates from 1665, is dedicated to St. Peter.

J. V. GREGORY.
