

Fig. 9. Combined extracts from the Ordnance Survey maps of 1893 and 1896, with the study area highlighted (Ordnance Survey sheets 153 and 170)

Fig. 10. Combined extracts from the Ordnance Survey maps of 1910, with the study area highlighted (Ordnance Survey sheets 153SE and SW, and 170NE and NW)

Plate 1. The promontory on which Haverah Park Top and 'John of Gaunt's Castle' are located, looking south-east

Plate 2. Section of 'Bank Slack' to the east of Clay Pit Lane, looking east

Plate 3. The remains of the gatehouse of the medieval hunting lodge known as 'John of Gaunt's Castle', looking north-west

Plate 4. The remains of the gatehouse of 'John of Gaunt's Castle' with the buildings of Haverah Park Top behind, looking south-east

Plate 5. Probable cultivation terraces to the west of Haverah Park Top, looking east

Plate 6. The western Beaver Dyke Reservoir, looking east

Plate 7. The main range of buildings at Haverah Park Top, looking north-east

Plate 8. Small stone buildings built into the southern bank of 'John of Gaunt's Castle' on the northern side of Haverah Park Top, looking north-east