Site No 5 Site Name Pickering Flint Assemblage I

NGR SE8000085000 SMR 2355 00000

Form finds Period Prehistoric

Significance local

Description

In Ruddock's collection Bateman notes under miscellaneous articles a collection of 211 flints found on warrens round Pickering. Clearly this could cover a wide area and they should not be used as the basis of a distribution centred on Pickering. They were mostly calcinated (1).

This assemblage possibly includes a spearhead (2355 01000) an arrowhead (2355 02000) a hammerstone (2355 03000) a scraper (2355 04000) and a possible flint knife (2355 05000) (1).

NGR SE8000085000 SMR 2358 00000

Form finds Period Prehistoric

Significance local

Description

Ruddock opened a number of barrows in the neighbourhood of Pickering for which no notes were made due to his death Bateman lists them but states that unfortunately the objects in each tumulus cannot be identified He does say that the greater part accompanied cremations

These finds may have included collared urns (2358 01000 2358 03000 2358 04000 2358 08000 2358 10000 2358 11000) pigmy cups (2358 05000 2358 06000) a food vessel (2358 09000) a cinerary urn (2358 02000) and a bowl (2358 12000) (1)

Site No 7 Site Name Pickering Flint Assemblage II

NGR SE8000085000 SMR 2360 00000

Form finds Period Prehistoric

Significance local

Description

According to Bateman these came from the same part of the collection as the various pottery vessels recovered from barrows in the neighbourhood of Pickering A number were calcinated which might suggest they were associated with cremations but they could all equally be stray finds

This assemblage includes two arrowhead (2360 01000 2360 02000) a possible spearhead (2360 3000) a hammer stone (2360 05000) and an axe fragment (2360 05000) (1)
