

APPENDIX I

CATALOGUE OF BEAKER POTTERY FROM HOCKWOLD

SITES 93 AND 63/69 ('THE OAKS')

The following is purely descriptive catalogue, since classification of the majority of individual sherds into the sub-groups of Clarke's system is impractical. The sherds are, therefore, listed under types of decoration and motif. The method followed in sorting is described in the introduction to Part II:1. The lists for each site, especially that for 'The Oaks', where the pottery was more fragmentary, represent a maximum number of pots. Fabrics have not been analysed in detail, but are described briefly where they differ from the norm for the group.

SITE 93

Beakers decorated with horizontal lines.

- P93.001 Rim/neck and shoulder sherds. Straight neck profile and pronounced shoulder. Neck and shoulder appear to be decorated entirely with horizontal lines impressed with a fine-toothed stamp, with a break in the decoration on the shoulder. 1/5in to 1/2in thick. Fig. 1
- P93.002 Part of rim; diam. 7in. Straight neck profile with a raised cordon 1/2in below the rim. Decoration of horizontal lines above and below the cordon, rather carelessly impressed with a comb stamp. 1/5in thick, 3/8in thick at cordon. Fig. 1
- P93.003 Rim sherds; diam. approx. 5 1/2in. Similar to P93.002, with raised cordon below the rim and decoration of horizontal impressed lines.

Beakers decorated with herringbone design.

Sherds of three beakers decorated with horizontal bands of herringbone decoration, comb impressed.

Sherds of four beakers decorated with horizontal bands of herringbone decoration, incised.

None of these sherds large enough for overall form and design to be determined.

Beakers decorated with 'ladder-pattern' design.

- P93.004 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Neck with slightly convex curve profile, shoulder rounded. Rim diam. approx. 6in, shoulder approx. 6½in. Decoration in two bands, apparently identical, on neck and body, consisting of a zone of 'ladder-pattern' bordered by groups of horizontal lines above a fairly broad cross hatched zone. Comb impressed, the stamp evidently having been dragged in places. 1/5in to ¼in thick. Fig. 1
- P93.005 Rim and Neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx. 8in. Zone of 'ladder-pattern' below rim and at base of neck. Decoration of the area in between is uncertain, but seems to include narrow undecorated zone. Comb impressed, the stamp having been dragged. 1/5in to ¼in thick. Fig. 1

Also sherds from up to eighteen vessels decorated with comb-stamped ladder pattern, and from up to twenty vessels with incised ladder pattern.

Beakers decorated with crescent-stamp impressions.

- P93.006 Rim sherds with slightly convex curved profile. Diam. 6½ - 7in. Decoration below the rim consisting of at least three rows of vertical crescent-stamp impressions, each row bordered by single, horizontal, comb-impressed lines and separated by narrow undecorated zones. 3/10in thick. Fig. 1
- P93.007 Body (?) sherds, diam. approx. 5in. Decoration of at least two rows of vertical crescent-stamp impressions. The direction of the stamp alternating in each row, with bands of three incised lines between and a band of cross-hatching below. ¼in thick. Fig. 1
- P93.008 Rim sherds, diam. approx. 3½in. Slightly rolled rim and evenly concave curved profile. Decoration of two zones consisting respectively of a single and a double row of vertical crescent-stamp impressions, separated and bordered by single horizontal, comb-impressed lines. ¼in below the rim is a double perforation made before firing and probably to hold a string for suspension. 1/5in thick. Fig. 1
- P93.009 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. approx. 5½in; shoulder approx. 6in. Cylindrical neck with raised cordon ½in below the rim and a sharply angled shoulder. Decoration covers the entire pot and consists of three main bands. Above the rim cordon is a double row of vertical crescent-stamp impressions;

over the main part of the neck is a broad zone of vertical and oblique lines, possibly arranged in some kind of pattern; on the shoulder are two zones consisting of shallow, reserved bar-chevron; and on the lower body, two zones, each consisting of a double row of vertical crescent-stamp impressions. Comb-impressed rather carelessly. 1/5in to 1/4in thick at cordon. Fig. 3

Also sherds of two vessels with crescent impressions in zones with horizontal comb-impressed lines. Also sherds of six vessels with crescent impressions in zones with incised lines or no lines visible.

Beakers with decoration including bar chevrons, where principal design is not apparent. (Bar chevrons do not seem to occur as dominant motif on any part in this group).

P93.010 Rim sherd with straight profile. Zone 1/2in wide consisting of a reserved bar chevron immediately below the rim. Incised. 1/4in thick. Fig. 3

Also sherds from ten vessels decorated with comb-impressed, reserved bar chevrons and from fifteen vessels with incised, reserved bar chevrons. In all these examples the bar chevron is narrow and shallow, with hatched or cross-hatched background.

Beakers decorated with triangles.

P93.011 Rim, shoulder and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx. 5 1/2in. Cross-hatched zones, 3/4 to 1in wide below rim and on shoulder and lower body. Between them, on the neck, indications of open triangles; multiple chevrons, possibly forming pendant triangles, round the base. Incised. 1/4in thick. Fig. 3

Also sherds of up to nine vessels, two of them base sherds, decorated with comb-impressed pendant triangles, and of up to sixteen vessels, including three base sherds, decorated with incised pendant or upright triangles.

Also, sherds of up to six vessels, including five base sherds, decorated with incised multiple chevrons forming triangles.

Beakers decorated with lozenge panels.

P93.012 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. approx. 4 1/2in; shoulder approx. 5in. Cylindrical neck with raised cordon 1in below the rim and a sharply angular shoulder. Decoration in two bands, divided at the shoulder by a narrow group of horizontal lines. On the neck, small floating lozenge panels, cross hatched; on the body, larger floating lozenge panels, both cross-hatched and filled with horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Hard fabric with a glossy surface.  $1/5$ in to  $1/4$ in thick;  $3/8$ in thick at the cordon. Fig. 2

P93.013 Rim and neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx.  $4\frac{1}{2}$ in. Slightly concave curved profile with raised cordon just below the rim. Single band of decoration consisting of small floating lozenge panels covers entire neck and is bordered by groups of three horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $1/4$ in thick;  $3/10$ in thick at cordon. Fig. 2

P93.014 Neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker. Neck diam. approx. 7in; shoulder approx. 8in. Straight neck profile with marked shoulder. A row of large floating lozenge panels, with pendant and upright triangles, forms a band of decoration covering most of the neck; two narrow zones of ladder pattern on the shoulder. Comb impressed.  $1/4$ in to  $3/10$ in thick. Fig. 1

P93.015 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Neck diam. approx.  $6\frac{1}{2}$ in; shoulder  $7\frac{1}{4}$ in. Slightly concave curved neck profile with raised cordon, probably pushed out from the inside rather than applied. Two bands of decoration on the neck and on the body, separated by a narrow zone of horizontal lines. On the neck, cross-hatched floating lozenge panels; on the body, larger floating lozenge panels with vertical hatching. Carelessly comb impressed, the stamp having been dragged in places.  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 2

P93.016 Straight-profiled neck sherds. Decoration of cross-hatched floating lozenge panels, carelessly comb impressed.  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 2

P93.017 Neck sherd. Large cross-hatched floating lozenge panels incised.  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 2

Also sherds from up to five other vessels with lozenge panel decoration, cross hatched and comb impressed; and from up to sixteen vessels with incised floating lozenge panels.

Beakers decorated with hexagonal panels.

P93.018 Neck and rim sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx. 5-6in. Cylindrical neck with a raised cordon  $3/4$ in below the rim. Decoration consists of short vertical lines above and on the cordon, and a single row of elongated, cross-hatched, floating hexagonal panels covering the rest of the neck.

Comb impressed. Body sherd possibly belonging to the same beaker has a cross-hatched band or row of pendant triangles.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick at cordon. Fig. 3

Also, sherds from two other beakers with comb-impressed elongated hexagonal panels, and from five other beakers with incised elongated hexagonal panels.

Beakers with decoration of reserved panels.

- P93.019 Neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Neck diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx. 6in. Rounded shoulder and (probably) slightly flared neck. Two apparently identical bands of decoration, on neck and body respectively, each consisting of a single row of reserved lozenge panels against a cross-hatched ground, separated by a narrow zone on the shoulder, consisting of cross-hatched floating lozenge panels and small excised triangular pits. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 4
- P93.020 Body sherds with slightly convex curved profile. Decoration in a broad band which includes pendant triangles and what appears to be a chequer pattern of cross-hatched and reserved lozenges. Comb impressed rather carelessly.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P93.021 Body sherd from just below shoulder. Decoration of reserved lozenge panels connected by reserved bar-chevrons against a cross-hatched ground. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 4
- P93.022 Sherds with slightly convex curved profile, decorated with two zones  $\frac{3}{4}$ in to 1in wide containing reserved lozenge panels against a background of incised herringbone pattern.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 4
- P93.023 Sherd from near base decorated with outline lozenges, carelessly incised and arranged.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 4

Also, sherds of two other vessels decorated with reserved lozenge panels, comb impressed.

Beaker with other reserved patterns.

- P93.024 Neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Decoration in two broad bands separated at the shoulder by a very narrow undecorated zone. On the neck, narrow, vertical, zig-zag reserved bars possibly outlining lozenge panels, and on the body, reserved bar-chevrons, all against an incised, cross-hatched ground. Near the base is a narrow band of herringbone pattern. Fabric hard and of fine quality.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 3

Beaker decorated with circle motif.

- P93.025 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx. 7in. Roughly cylindrical neck with well defined shoulder. Main bands of decoration on neck and body separated by a narrower band of herringbone pattern on the upper part of the shoulder. On the neck, upright and pendant triangles defining a row of joined, reserved lozenge panels, each with a circular stamp impression in its centre, and on the body, at least two rows of circular-stamp impressions against a ground hatched with short comb-stamp impression. These bands of decoration are not defined by horizontal lines. The rim is squared and decorated with short comb-stamp impressions.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 4

Beaker decorated with metopic patterns.

- P93.026 Roughly straight profiled sherds, probably from neck. Decoration consists of a zone with a shallow reserved bar-chevron above what appears to be a band of alternating decorated and undecorated panels. Appears to be comb impressed, the comb having been dragged.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 3

Also, sherds of three vessels decorated with cross-hatched rectangular panels, one of them possibly with saltire pattern. Comb impressed. Sherds of four vessels decorated with panels containing jabbed and crescent-stamp decoration separated by groups of incised vertical lines or narrow undecorated zones.

Handled Beaker.

- P93.027 Strap handle of flattish rectangular section decorated with incised saltire pattern.

Also, part of a large oval-sectioned handle - end or plug, undecorated. Coarse, gritty fabric.

Beakers decorated with finger-nail decoration in association with stamped and incised decoration.

- P93.028 Neck (concave curved) and body sherds. Neck diam. approx.  $6\frac{1}{2}$ in; shoulder approx. 7in. Decoration of bands of short pinched ribs, divided into zones by horizontal incised lines. On the lower body, the decoration is of spaced pinches.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick. Fig. 5
- P93.029 Straight-profiled sherd. Zone with reserved bar-chevron and zone of non-plastic 'crow's foot' pinches separated by two horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 5

P93.030 Rim and neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Over most of the neck the decoration consists of small, incised floating lozenge panels, filled with small, oval stabbed impressions. The lower neck and shoulder are covered with spaced, non-plastic 'crow's-foot' pinches. The two bands of decoration merge into one another without a break or horizontal line to define them. 1/5in to 1/4in thick. Fig. 5

In addition, small sherds of up to ten vessels carrying horizontal comb-impressed lines only, and sherds of up to sixteen vessels with incised horizontal lines only.

Small sherds from up to thirteen pots carrying comb-impressed cross hatching only, and from up to thirty-two pots with incised cross hatching only.

Coarse Beaker ware with circle stamp decoration.

P93.031 Neck sherd with straight profile. Decoration of three rows of rather irregularly-spaced circle stamp-impressions above a horizontal incised line. Very thin walled - 3/16in thick. Fig. 5

P93.032 Rim and shoulder sherds from small beaker with straight profiled rim, a raised cordon 1/2in below the rim and a rounded shoulder. Decoration of small, closely-spaced circle stamp impressions above and below the rim cordon, and of two rows of small circle stamp-impressions against a broad undecorated area on the shoulder. 1/5in thick; 3/10in thick at the cordon. Fig. 5

Coarse Beaker ware with herringbone decoration.

P93.033 Sherds with slightly convex curved profile. Diam. approx. 6in. Decorated all over with broad herringbone pattern, carelessly incised. 1/4in thick. Fig. 5

Coarse Beaker ware with decoration of crescent impressions.

P93.034 Sherds with straight profile. Diam. approx. 7in. Decoration of closely-spaced crescent impressions in horizontal rows. No indication of zoning. 5/16in thick. Fig. 5

Beaker pottery with jabbed decoration.

Sherds representing up to twenty pots.

Beaker with impressed rustication.

- P93.035 Rim, neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker with straight neck and rather slack shoulder profile. Rim diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx. 5½in. Decoration of roughly triangular impressions, evidently made with the articular end of a small bone, covering the entire pot in roughly horizontal rows. ¼in thick; 3/10in thick at shoulder. Fig. 5

Large Beaker vessels with finger-tip rustication.

- P93.036 Straight profiled sherds. . Diam. approx. 12in. Decorated with regular horizontal rows of thumb-tip impressions pushing up the surface in crescent ridges. Traces of 'crow's-foot' impressions. Rather coarse, gritty fabric. 5/16in thick. Fig. 5
- P93.037 Very large beaker with shallow 'S' curved profile. Rim diam. approx. 11½in; shoulder approx. 12 in. Height approx. 13in. Decoration of paired finger and thumbtip impressions arranged roughly in vertical rows on the upper part of the vessel, but more irregularly further down. Dimpling rather than pinching of the surface, though the fabric is pinched up a little in places. Hard, rather coarse fabric. Fig. 6

Large Beaker vessels with pinched rustication.

- P93.038 Straight profiled sherds, including rim sherd thickened on the outside to form an inverted 'L' shaped profile with flat top pitted with finger-tip impressions. Diam. approx. 8in. Decoration of closely spaced pinches. 3/8in thick; 7/10in thick at rim. Fig. 7
- P93.039 Straight profiled sherds including rim sherd, very similar to P93.038. Diam. approx. 8in. Rim pinched around the top. Decorated with spaced pinches, closely, but seemingly irregularly spaced. Hard fabric containing much coarse flint grit. 3/10in thick; ½in thick at rim. Fig. 7
- P93.040 Base sherds with rather steep basal angle. Diam. approx. 4in. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches. Hard fabric with plentiful coarse flint grit. 3/8in thick. Fig. 7

Smaller Beaker vessels with pinched rustication.

- P93.041 Sherds apparently from neck, body and base of beaker. Diam. of upper body approx. 6-7in; base 4in. Decoration of closely but apparently randomly-spaced pinches without any break or zoning.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 7
- P93.042 Neck and shoulder sherds of necked beaker. Diam. at shoulder approx. 7 in. Decorated with closely-spaced pinches in roughly horizontal lines.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick. Fig. 7
- P93.043 Neck/shoulder and body sherds of necked beaker. Diam. at neck approx. 5in. Decoration or pinches in horizontal rows fairly widely spaced.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 7
- P93.044 Sherds of beaker with trumpet-shaped neck and marked shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx. 5-6in. Decoration of closely spaced pinches arranged in horizontal rows. Fairly soft fabric, containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick;  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick at shoulder. Fig. 7
- P93.045 Rim, neck and shoulder sherds from necked beaker. Raised cordon 1in below rim, and sharply angled shoulder. Rim diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx.  $5\frac{1}{2}$ in. Decoration of spaced pinches.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick;  $\frac{5}{10}$ in thick at cordon and shoulder. Fig. 7
- P93.046 Neck sherds, diam. approx. 6-7in. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches without any sign of zoning.

Also, sherds of about six other beakers decorated with spaced pinches.

Large, zoned rusticated Beaker vessels.

- P93.047 Rim sherds. Diam. approx. 11in. Thickened rim with pinching round the top and high horizontal ridges below it. Probably from a zoned vessel.
- P93.048 Sherds of very large beaker. Rim diam. approx.  $10\frac{1}{2}$ in; shoulder approx. 12in. Rim thickened on the inside to form an inverted 'L' profile, neck with very slightly convex curved profile and rounded shoulder. Heavily rusticated with a row of pinches round the top of the rim, zones of at least three pinched ribs below the rim and at the shoulder and zones of large, closely-spaced pinches between and on lower body. Hard, evenly-fired fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in to  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick;  $\frac{3}{4}$ in thick at rim. Fig. 8

- P93.049 Neck and shoulder sherds of large beaker. Neck diam. approx.  $9\frac{1}{2}$ in; shoulder approx. 11in. At least four zones of decoration, with groups of horizontal pinched ribs on upper neck and at shoulder, and zones of closely spaced pinches between and on lower body. Coarse, fairly hard fabric, containing rather coarse flint grit and grog.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in to  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick. Fig. 9
- P93.050 Rim and neck (?) sherds of large beaker or bowl. Diam. approx.  $11\frac{1}{2}$ -12in. Thickened rim with 'T' profile and a raised cordon  $1\frac{1}{2}$ in below it. Rows of closely-spaced pinches above and below the cordon, with horizontal pinched ribs and a slight second cordon below these. Fig. 9
- P93.051 Rim sherds. Diam. approx. 9-10in. Plain rim with three broad grooves below, giving the effect of two slight cordons. Rather irregular single rows of pinches in the grooves.

Smaller zoned rusticated beakers.

- P93.052 Rim sherds. Diam. approx. 7in. Slightly thickened, squared rim, with pinched up cordon below and a single row of pinches between rim and cordon.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick. Fig. 9
- P93.053 Rim sherds. Diam. approx. 6-7in. Slightly thickened, squared rim with a row of pinches round the top, and a raised cordon below the rim. Between the cordon and the rim is at least one horizontal pinched rib, with two rather irregular rows of spaced pinches above, and another row of pinches on the cordon.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick;  $\frac{7}{16}$ in thick at rim and cordon. Fig. 9
- P93.054 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx. 5in; shoulder approx.  $5\frac{1}{2}$ in. At least four zones of rustication comprising three horizontal pinched ribs at neck and on shoulder, with vertical ribs covering the neck in between and spaced pinches below the shoulder.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 10
- P93.055 Neck, shoulder and base sherds of Southern type beaker with pronounced shoulder. Neck diam.  $4\frac{1}{2}$ -5in; shoulder approx. 5in; base approx. 3in. Zones of horizontal pinched ribs at shoulder and round base with zones of spaced pinches in between. On the neck these are probably arranged in vertical lines.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 10
- P93.056 Rim, neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker with cylindrical neck and pronounced, rounded shoulder. Rim diam. approx.  $5\frac{1}{2}$ in; shoulder approx. 6in. Decoration of two horizontal pinched ribs below rim and three at shoulder, with closely spaced pinches in vertical lines, almost ribs, on neck between and spaced pinches below shoulder. Hard fabric with smooth surface. 5/16in thick. Fig. 10

- P93.057 Neck/shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker with pronounced, rounded shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 6in; shoulder approx. 7in. Zone of four horizontal pinched ribs on shoulder with spaced pinches above. 1/5in to 5/16in thick. Fig. 10
- P93.058 Straight profiled sherd. Diam. uncertain. Decoration of two zones of horizontal pinched ribs about 1in apart and three rows of impression, made with the articular end of a small bone, between. 5/16in thick. Fig. 10
- P93.059 Neck, shoulder and body sherds of beaker. Neck diam. approx. 6½in; shoulder approx. 7½in. Zone of six horizontal bands of paired, opposed finger and thumb-nail impressions forming flat 'ribs' with zones of spaced 'crow's-foot' pinches above and below. ¼in to 5/16in thick. Fig. 11
- P93.060 Rim and neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx. 6½-7in. Decoration of rows of horizontal pinches at rim and possibly at base of neck, with vertical lines of 'crow's foot' pinches covering the neck between. ¼in to 5/16in thick. Fig. 11
- P93.061 Neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. approx. 6in. Three horizontal pinched ribs at rim with vertical lines of spaced pinches on the neck.
- P93.062 Shoulder sherds. Diam. approx. 7in. Decorated with horizontal pinched ribs and spaced pinches.
- P93.063 Straight profiled neck (?) sherds. Diam. approx. 7in. Decorated with horizontal and vertical pinched ribs.
- P93.064 Straight profiled neck (?) sherd. Diam. approx. 4in. Decorated with a double horizontal line of vertical finger-nail impressions between bands of horizontal, flat, narrow 'ribs' of opposed incisions made with a sliver of wood or bone.

Also, sherds from about six vessels decorated with horizontal pinched ribs and vertical lines of pinching.

Sherds probably from zoned rusticated beakers.

Twenty-one sherds, including one rim sherd and one fragment of base, from up to fifteen different vessels; decorated with horizontal flattish 'ribs'. Fifteen sherds from up to six different vessels; decorated with horizontal pinched ribs. Nine sherds from up to eight different vessels; decorated with vertical pinched ribs.

P93.065 Straight profiled sherds, diam. uncertain - 8+in.
Decoration of horizontal pinched ribs. Rather soft, coarse fabric.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in to  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick. Fig. 11

Beaker decorated with horizontal pinched ribs.

P93.066 Neck and body sherds of beaker. Neck diam. approx.
6in. Decorated with horizontal pinched ribs spaced about  $\frac{1}{2}$ in apart.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 11

Beaker vessels with unusual ribbed rustication.

P93.067 Straight profiled sherds. Diam. approx. 5-6in.
Panels of vertical, pinched ribs alternating with narrower, vertical, undecorated panels.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
Fig. 11

P93.068 Rim and neck sherds. Straight profile with slight raised cordon 1in below the rim. Decoration consists of small ribs worked up with a sliver of wood or bone forming multiple chevrons and reserved triangles above and below the cordon. Coarse, friable ware, containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 11

Undecorated Sherds.

Approx. 128 small undecorated sherds. All are of fabrics like those of the Beaker pottery, and none need necessarily be from undecorated beakers.

Fifty-seven undecorated base sherds including one of corky fabric containing grog - probably not from a beaker. Four rim sherds, including one apparently from an undecorated Necked beaker. Two small undecorated rim sherds of beakers, probably not from undecorated vessels.

SITE 63/69 'THE OAKS'

Beakers decorated with horizontal lines.

P69.001 Concave curved neck sherd. Evenly-spaced horizontal comb-impressed lines, possibly grouped in bands.
Fairly hard fabric containing fine flint grit. c  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Surface abraded. Fig. 12

P69.002 Rim sherd, everted and with a high shoulder. Band of closely-spaced horizontal comb-impressed lines below rim. Hard fabric with smooth surface.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 12

- P69.003 Concave curved neck sherd. Evenly spaced horizontal fine comb-impressed lines. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit, smooth faced.  $3/10$ in thick. Fig. 12
- P69.004 Rim sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Horizontal lines made with a dragged comb stamp.  $5/16$ in thick. Fig. 12
- P69.005 Neck sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Evenly-spaced horizontal lines, probably comb-impressed. Fabric hard, containing fine flint grit.  $1/4$ in thick. Surface much abraded.
- P69.006 Rim, neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Bands of closely-spaced horizontal comb-impressed lines alternating with undecorated zones of roughly equal width. Fairly hard fabric containing flint grit.  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 12
- P69.007 Two sherds with straight profile. Widely-spaced horizontal comb-impressed lines. Fairly hard fabric, flaky in texture, containing a little fine flint grit.  $3/10$ in thick. Fig. 12
- P69.008 Rim sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Band of incised horizontal lines below rim. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $3/10$ in thick. Fig. 12
- P69.009 Base sherds. Diam. c 3in. Slight foot. Horizontal comb-impressed lines rather carelessly executed. Fabric hard and evenly fired containing a little flint grit. Wall  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 12

Northern type beaker.

- P63.010 Rim, neck and body sherds. Rim diam. approx. 4in, shoulder approx.  $4\frac{1}{2}$ in. Short, slightly flared neck, and ovoid body. Two main bands of decoration, on neck and belly respectively, each consisting of multiple narrow zones, comb impressed and alternately hatched and cross hatched. Fabric fairly hard containing a little flint grit.  $1/5$ in to  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 13

Beakers with multiple chevron and herringbone decoration.

- P63.011 Rim and neck sherds with concave curved profile. Decorated all over with a multiple, horizontal chevron pattern, comb impressed.  $1/4$ in thick. Fig. 13

- P63.012 Body sherd covered by band of at least three narrow zones of herringbone pattern alternating with groups of three horizontal lines. Impressed with fine-toothed comb stamps. Hard fabric. 3/10in thick. Fig. 13
- P63.013 Small base sherd with slight foot. Horizontal band of herringbone pattern above foot, impressed with a short comb stamp. 1/4in thick. Fig. 13
- P63.014 Base sherd with slight foot. Decorated with shallow zig-zag lines separated by horizontal lines (probably not a principal motif). Comb impressed. 1/4in thick. Fig. 13
- P69.015 Small body sherd. Decoration of horizontal bands of closely-spaced multiple chevrons, comb impressed, alternating with reserved bar-chevrons. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only. Evenly fired. 1/4in thick. Surface abraded.
- P63.016 Rim and body (?) sherds. Straight profiled rim with slight internal bevel. Decoration in horizontal bands, c 1in deep, of herringbone pattern bordered by single horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Hard fabric, containing grog only. 1/5in thick. Surface abraded.
- P63.017 Small body sherd. Decoration of horizontal band of herringbone pattern c 1in broad, bordered by single horizontal lines. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.
- P63.018 Small body sherd. Decoration of herringbone pattern, comb impressed. 1/5in thick.

Beakers decorated with narrow zones of cross hatching.

- P69.019 Neck (?) and body sherds. Bands of decoration consisting of multiple narrow zones of cross hatching, comb impressed, alternating with undecorated zones of less width. Fabric rather soft, but close textured, containing a little fine flint grit. 1/4in thick. Fig. 13
- P69.020 Neck sherds with slightly concave curved profile. Bands of decoration consisting of multiple narrow zones of cross hatching, comb impressed. Fabric fairly hard, containing a little flint grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 13
- P69.021 Body sherds. Band of decoration including narrow zone of cross hatching and a broader zone of multiple chevron pattern, comb impressed. Fabric hard, containing flint grit. 1/4in thick. Fig. 13

- P63.022 Rim, neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Neck diam. approx. 6-6½in. At least three bands of decoration. On the neck, a broad band of four zones, each c ½in broad, comprising a shallow bar-chevron below the rim above two zones of cross hatching with a zone of ladder pattern between. On the shoulder a narrower band comprising a zone of cross hatching above a narrow zone of ladder pattern. Indications of a third zone on the lower body. Comb stamped. ¼in thick. Fig. 14
- P69.023 Rim and neck sherds with slightly convex profile. Diam. approx. 8in. Zone of cross hatching ½in broad, below rim, and another area of cross hatching at base of neck. Comb impressed. Fabric fairly hard, containing much flint grit. ¼in thick. Fig. 14
- P69.024 Neck/shoulder sherds. Zone of cross hatching at least ¾in broad at base of neck. Incised. Fabric rather soft, containing a little flint grit. 1/5in thick. Fig. 14
- P69.025 Neck/shoulder sherds. Pronounced shoulder. Diam. approx. 4in. Zone of cross hatching ½in wide and part of a broader band of decoration at base of neck; further band of cross hatching on upper body, separated by a narrow undecorated zone on the shoulder. Comb impressed. Hard fabric, containing fine flint grit. ¼in thick. Fig. 14
- P63.026 Base sherd. Zone of cross hatching, comb impressed, round base. 3/8in thick. Fig. 14
- P63.027 Shoulder sherds. Decoration similar to that of P63.022, consisting of narrow zones of cross hatching and ladder pattern grouped in bands of varying width. Comb impressed. ¼in thick.
- P69.028 Neck, shoulder and body sherds. Decoration of zones of close cross hatching, ½in broad, grouped in bands which are fringed by small running chevrons. Impressed with a fine toothed stamp. Hard, fine fabric containing flint grit. ¼in thick.
- P69.029 Rim sherds of slightly convex profile. Decoration of narrow zone of cross hatching below rim, above a shallow reserved bar chevron in a broader band of cross hatching. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit. ¼in thick.
- P63.030 Convex curved body sherd. Two narrow zones of cross hatching, flanked by triple horizontal lines and separated by an undecorated zone of equal width. Impressed with a fine toothed stamp. ¼in thick.

- P69.031 Body sherd. Zone of cross hatching above three closely-spaced horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a little grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.032 Body sherd with markedly convex curved profile. Narrow zone of cross hatching flanked by horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little fine grit.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick.
- P69.033 Small neck sherd with straight profile. Narrow zone of cross hatching between undecorated zones of uncertain width. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric with much fine grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P69.034 Slightly concave curved neck sherd and convex curved body sherd. Bands of decoration consisting of narrow zones of cross hatching and of 'ermine' pattern. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Worn surface.
- P69.035 Rim sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Narrow zone of cross hatching superimposed on horizontal lines below rim, above a similar zone of uncertain width, separated from it by a narrow undecorated zone. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a little fine grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{3}$ in thick.
- P69.036 Small neck sherd with straight profile. Decoration of narrow zone of cross hatching flanked by three horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little fine grit.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick.
- P69.037 Small neck sherd with straight profile. Decoration of zone of cross hatching  $\frac{1}{2}$ in wide above a narrow zone of ladder pattern. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P60.038 Small rim sherd. Decoration with a narrow zone of cross hatching below rim, above a further zone of cross hatching of uncertain width and separated from it by a narrow undecorated zone. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric with much fine grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.039 Small sherd. Decoration with a narrow zone of cross hatching flanked by groups of horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.040 Small neck sherd. Decoration with a narrow zone consisting of a row of crosses between horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{3}{5}$ in thick.
- P69.041 Small sherd. Decoration with a zone of cross hatching at least  $\frac{1}{2}$ in wide. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric with a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

- P63.042 Small sherd. Band of decoration consisting of at least two narrow zones of cross hatching separated by three horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.043 Small body sherd with markedly convex curved profile. Narrow band of cross hatching flanked by groups of horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.044 Small rim sherd with straight profile. Zone of cross hatching immediately below the rim. Incised. Fairly hard, evenly-fired fabric containing chiefly grog, but also a few pieces of fine flint gravel.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

Beakers with 'ladder-pattern' decoration.

- P63.045 Rim, neck and body sherds of Southern type (?) beaker. Neck diam. approx. 5-6in. Neck covered by narrow zones of ladder pattern alternating with undecorated zones of roughly equal width. Possible shallow bar chevron decoration on the shoulder. Narrow band of similar decoration on the body. Incised. Hard fabric containing fine flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P63.046 Neck/shoulder sherds. Pronounced shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 5in. Zone of ladder pattern c  $\frac{1}{2}$ in wide, flanked by groups of horizontal lines at base of neck, separated from decoration of neck and body by narrow undecorated zones. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P69.047 Small sherds, probably from neck and body. Decoration of narrow zones of ladder pattern separated by broad undecorated zones. Cuneiform jabs also. Incised. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P63.048 Rim and neck sherds with very slightly convex profile. Band of decoration below the rim consisting of a narrow zone of ladder pattern flanked by narrow zones of single running chevrons. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P69.049 Small neck and body sherds. Narrow zones of ladder pattern together, on the neck, with a zone of 'ermine' pattern. Presumably these zones form part of broad bands of decoration. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P63.050 Straight profiled sherds from large vessel. Decoration of narrow zones of oblique hatching in broad bands of closely-spaced horizontal lines. Impressed with large-toothed stamp.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick. Fig. 15

- P63.051 Small base sherd with zone of incised ladder pattern round base.  $\frac{3}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P63.052 Base sherd, diam. approx. 4in. Narrow zone of ladder pattern, comb impressed, round base.  $\frac{3}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 15
- P69.053 Rim sherd with straight profile. Two narrow zones of ladder pattern, separated by an undecorated zone of equal width, immediately below rim. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.054 Rim sherd with straight profile. Two narrow zones of ladder pattern, alternating with narrower undecorated zones, below rim. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.055 Small rim sherd with straight profile. Zone of ladder pattern c  $\frac{1}{2}$ in wide, flanked by narrow undecorated zones, below rim. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a very little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.056 Small rim sherd with straight profile. Narrow zone of ladder pattern immediately below the rim, with a double zone of ladder pattern below that and separated from it by a narrow undecorated zone. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P69.057 Small sherd with straight profile. At least two narrow zones of ladder pattern separated by an undecorated zone of equal width. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a little fine flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.058 Small body sherd. Narrow zone of ladder pattern, flanked by narrower undecorated zones, above (?) a zone of cross hatching. Comb stamped. Hard fabric containing a little sandy grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.059 Small sherd, straight profile. Narrow zone of ladder pattern flanked by groups of horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.060 Small sherd with slightly convex profile. Narrow zone of ladder pattern above a narrow zone of 'ermine' pattern. Comb impressed.  $\frac{3}{16}$ in thick.
- P63.061 Small sherd with straight profile. Narrow zone of ladder pattern flanked by groups of horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

Beakers with circle-stamped decoration.

- P63.062 Rim, neck and body sherds of a Southern type beaker. Diam. of neck and body approx. 6in. Flared neck, with slight, raised cordon near the base of it and fairly pronounced shoulder. Decoration on neck comprises two double zones on upper part, each consisting of a row of circle stamps above a narrow zone of ladder pattern and separated by narrow undecorated zones, a broader band round the lower part of the neck consisting of zones of circle stamps and ladder pattern, a slight break at the base of the neck, and a broad band of decoration consisting of single and double rows of circle stamps, groups of horizontal lines and a broader vertically hatched zone. Comb impressed. Hard fabric, evenly fired.  $\frac{3}{16}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 14
- P69.063 Small sherd. Single row of circle stamps between single horizontal lines. Comb impressed. Hard fabric, evenly fired, containing flint grit.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick.

Beakers with decoration of triangles (not necessarily the principal motif).

- P63.064 Body sherds, apparently from fairly large vessel. Decoration of horizontally hatched upright triangles, ('calyx' pattern) round the base below broad zone of horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.065 Neck sherd with concave profile. Decoration of hatched pendant triangle, comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.066 Shoulder sherd. Decoration of filled, upright triangle below a group of three horizontal lines, all below an undecorated zone. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.067 Body sherd. Decoration of horizontally hatched triangle and group of horizontal lines, impressed with a fine-toothed stamp.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.068 Body sherd, probably from near base. Decoration of broad zone of narrow pendant triangles below a zone of ladder pattern. (?) Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.069 Small rim sherd with slightly convex profile. Decoration of reserved triangle below double horizontal line. Suggestion of upright filled triangles to either side. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.070 Small base sherd. Decoration of horizontally hatched, incised pendant triangles round the base.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

- P69.071 Sherds with straight profile. Decoration of shallow filled triangles impressed with a large-toothed stamp. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 3/5in thick. Surface slightly weathered.
- P69.072 Small shoulder sherd. Decoration of small, shallow upright filled triangles. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 1/4in thick.
- P69.073 Small rim sherd with slightly convex profile. Decoration of hatched pendant triangle immediately below the rim. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing hardly any grit. 1/4in thick.
- P69.074 Small body sherd. Decoration of horizontally hatched pendant triangle below an undecorated zone. Comb impressed. Hard, slightly flaky fabric, containing grog only. 1/4in thick.
- P63.075 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration of reserved triangle, probably alternating with filled triangles. Comb impressed. 1/5in thick.
- P63.076 Small neck sherd with very slightly concave profile. Decoration with probable design of alternating filled and reserved triangles. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.
- P63.077 Small body sherd, with marked convex curved profile. Decoration with probable design of filled triangles and reserved panels. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.
- P63.078 Small body sherd. Decoration with probable design of filled triangles. Comb impressed. 1/5in thick.
- P63.079 Small body sherd. Decoration with probable design of horizontally hatched and reserved triangles. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.
- P63.080 Small neck sherd with very slightly concave profile. Decoration of small, horizontally hatched, incised triangles. 1/5in thick.
- P63.081 Small rim sherd with slightly concave profile. Decoration of open triangle or chevron design. Comb impressed. 3/16in thick.
- P63.082 Small, straight profiled sherd. Decoration with probable design of filled triangles and reserved bar-chevron. Comb impressed. Thick walled - 3/8in.
- P63.083 Small, straight profiled sherd. Decoration of reserved triangle. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.

- P63.084 Small, straight profiled sherd. Decoration with open triangle or chevron pattern. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.085 Small, straight profiled sherd. Decoration with triangle or open triangle pattern. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.086 Small base sherds. Decoration with open triangle or chevron pattern. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.087 Body sherds from near base. Decoration with open triangle or chevron below group of horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick.
- P63.088 Neck sherd with slightly convex curved profile. Decoration of hatched and reserved triangle design above and below a group of three horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick.

Beakers on which triangles are a dominant motif.

- P63.089 Neck and body sherds of a Southern type beaker. Neck diam. approx. 4-5in. Two identical bands of decoration covering neck and body respectively, each consisting of a single row of reserved triangles in which stand or depend hatched bar 'V's, between cross-hatched panels of uncertain form. Incised.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.090 Neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker with flared neck and pronounced shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 5-6in; shoulder 6-7in. Two main bands of decoration, on neck and body respectively. On the neck is a hatched bar chevron defining opposing rows of reserved triangles in the lower of which are small, hatched upright triangles. On the shoulder is a hatched zone, c  $\frac{3}{4}$ in wide, from which depends a single row of large filled triangles. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.091 Body sherds. Decoration consisting of a row of large, narrow, horizontally hatched triangles. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 16
- P63.092 Neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker with raised cordon below rim and a fairly pronounced shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 5-6in; shoulder approx. 6in. Two main bands of decoration on neck and body respectively, each consisting of a row of large, rather narrow pendant triangles, with a narrow zone of ladder pattern at the shoulder and two narrow zones of horizontal lines below the rim. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16

- P69.093 Shoulder (?) sherds. Decoration of filled upright and reserved pendant triangles. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing some flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 16

Beakers with open lattice decoration.

- P63.094 Sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. approx. 6in; shoulder approx.  $6\frac{3}{4}$ in; base approx. 4in. Height approx. 7in. Cylindrical neck with slight raised cordon below the rim and pronounced shoulder. The decoration appears to cover the entire pot without a break and consists of an open lozenge and lattice pattern rather carelessly executed, probably with an unevenly toothed stamp. Fairly hard fabric containing much flint grit. Evenly fired.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 17
- P63.095 Rim and shoulder sherds. Straight profiled neck. Rim diam. approx. 5-6in. Open lattice pattern on neck and body, possibly with a break in decoration at the junction of neck and body. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 17
- P69.096 Rim, neck and shoulder sherds, mostly rather small, of a Southern type beaker of slack and asymmetrical profile. Rim diam. approx. 4in. Decoration with a single row of 'crow's-foot' pinches round the rim, and faint, oblique finger-nail impressions round inside of rim. The rest of the vessel is covered, apparently without a break, by open lattice and triangle design. Comb impressed. Very hard fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 17
- P69.097 Neck sherd with slightly concave profile. Decoration of lattice pattern, comb impressed. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 18

Beakers with lozenge panel decoration.

- P63.098 Sherd with straight profile. Decoration appears to be of horizontally elongated, hatched lozenge panels, joined in a row. Comb impressed.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 18
- P63.099 Small rim sherd with slightly convex profile. Row of joined hatched lozenge panels below rim. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 18

- P63.100 Rim, neck and body sherds of Southern type beaker with very slightly flared neck and rounded shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 5-6in. Two main bands of decoration on neck and body respectively. On the neck, a broad band of small floating lozenge panels with reserved lattice pattern, flanked by narrow zones of ladder pattern. On the body, below a relatively narrow undecorated zone, a band of cross hatching, also flanked by narrow zones of ladder pattern. The horizontal lines are comb impressed, the lozenge panels and the ladder pattern impressed with a crescent-shaped stamp. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 17
- P69.101 Small neck and body sherds. Floating lozenge panels decorating neck and body. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing some flint grit.  $\frac{3}{10}$  in thick. Fig. 18
- P69.102 Rim and neck sherds. Neck apparently covered entirely by a design of floating lozenge panels, rather carelessly incised. Fairly hard fabric with a little flint grit. Weathered surface.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 18
- P69.103 Rim and body sherds. Rim diam. approx. 7in; body approx. 7-8in. Neck and body apparently covered by design of floating lozenge panels, with a break in the decoration on the shoulder of the vessel. Comb impressed rather carelessly. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 18
- P63.104 Neck, body and base sherds. Diam. of body approx. 6-7in. At least three bands of decoration. On the neck, floating lozenge panels bordered, at least on the lower edge, by a row of triangles, and with a break in the design at the junction of neck and shoulder; on the body, a similar band; and round the base, a separate band of pendant triangles. Rather carelessly comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 18
- P63.105 Body sherd. Decoration incorporating design of floating lozenge panels. Comb impressed.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick.

Beakers decorated with hexagonal panels.

- P69.106 Rim sherds with straight profile, possibly from a straight sided vessel. Diam. approx. 7-8in. There is a break in the design below which is a band of decoration incorporating pendant half hexagons, cross-hatched, and possibly floating hexagon panels with small floating lozenge panels between. Incised. Rather soft fabric containing flint grit. Worn surface.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 19

- P69.107 Small rim sherds with straight profile. Similar design to P69.106, with pendant half hexagon panels and small floating lozenge panels between. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. Evenly fired. Surface slightly abraded. 3/16in thick. Fig. 19
- P63.108 Neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker with flared neck. Rim diam. approx. 7in. Decoration appears to cover the entire pot without a break. Floating, cross hatched hexagon panels below a narrow zone of ladder pattern round the rim. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 19
- P63.109 Neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker. Band of decoration consisting of a single row of elongated, floating hexagon panels, cross hatched, covering the neck. A narrow break in the design on the shoulder. Rather carelessly comb impressed. 1/4in to 3/10 in thick. Fig. 19
- P63.110 Rim, neck and body sherds. Rim diam. approx. 5-6in. Slight raised cordon below the rim. Decoration on the neck consists of zones of cross hatching above and below the cordon, but the overall design is not clear. There is a break in design on the shoulder, and the body is covered by a single row of elongated, floating hexagon panels, cross hatched. Carelessly comb impressed, with some dragging of the stamp. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 1/4in thick. Fig. 19
- P69.111 Small neck sherd with slightly concave profile. Decoration of small floating hexagon panels. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 1/5in thick.
- P69.112 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration of elongated, floating hexagon panels, cross hatched. Neatly incised. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 1/5in thick.
- P63.113 Small neck sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration of floating hexagon panels, cross hatched. Comb impressed. 1/4in thick.

Beakers decorated with rectangular panels.

- P63.114 Rim, neck and shoulder sherds of Southern type beaker. Diam. at shoulder, approx. 5in. Slightly convex curved neck profile. The decoration appears to cover the entire vessel without a break, and to consist of three rows of large, floating rectangular panels, vertically hatched, with a narrow zone of ladder pattern immediately below the rim. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a very little flint grit. 3/16in to 1/4in thick. Fig. 20

- P63.115 Rim and neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Roughly cylindrical neck. Diam. approx. 7in. Decoration of single row of floating rectangular panels below two narrow hatched bands covering the entire neck. Possible break in design at the base of the neck. Comb impressed. Rather soft fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.116 Shoulder and body sherds. Diam. at base of neck approx. 5in. Decoration of single row of floating rectangular panels, cross hatched, below a narrow zone of 'ladder-pattern' at base of neck. Incised.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.117 Body sherd. Decoration of reserved rectangular panels divided by groups of vertical and horizontal lines. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 20

Beakers decorated with metopic designs.

- P63.118 Shoulder sherd. Band of decoration of narrow, cross hatched rectangular panels with small pendant triangles between, below a zone of cross hatching. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.119 Body sherds. Decoration consists of a band of large rectangular panels hatched across with narrow bands of ladder pattern, alternating with narrow vertical bands of ladder pattern. Carelessly comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.120 Two small sherds with vertical profile. Decoration of complex design, including narrow bands of alternating panels of vertical lines and multiple chevrons. Impressed with a fine-toothed stamp. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P69.121 Base sherd, Diam. 3in. Decoration of alternating panels of vertical lines and multiple chevrons. Comb impressed. Very hard fabric containing some flint grit. Evenly fired.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.122 Small rim sherd. Narrow zone of 'ladder-pattern' above alternating filled and undecorated panels. Comb impressed.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 20
- P63.123 Small shoulder (?) sherd. Design of alternating panels above a zone of cross hatching about  $\frac{1}{2}$ in wide on the shoulder. Comb impressed.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 20

- P69.124 Small sherd with straight profile. Narrow panel of herringbone pattern flanked by undecorated panels. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit. Evenly fired. 1/5in thick.
- P69.125 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration of alternating panels of vertical lines and herringbone pattern. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric containing much fine flint grit. 3/10in thick.

Beakers decorated with designs of crescent-stamp impressions.

- P63.126 Rim, neck, shoulder and body sherds of Southern type beaker. Rim diam. 6in; shoulder 6½in. Neck covered by a single band of decoration consisting of broad rectangular panels filled with vertical lines of crescent-stamp impressions alternating with narrow undecorated panels, between narrow horizontal zones of 'ladder-pattern', also made with crescent stamps, round rim and base of neck. Decoration on the body seems to consist chiefly of a double zone of 'ladder-pattern'. Incised lines bordering panels and zones. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only. ¼in to 3/10in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.127 Neck and body sherds. On both the decoration consists of a double row of crescent-stamp impressions bordered by single comb-impressed lines. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 1/5in to 3/10in thick. Fig. 21
- P63.128 Body sherd. Decoration of closely-spaced, horizontal crescent-stamp impressions covers the entire sherd. 3/10in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.129 Body sherd. Decoration of double row of horizontal crescent impressions below two closely spaced, horizontal comb-impressed lines. Fairly hard fabric containing much flint grit. ¼in thick.
- P69.130 Small rim sherd. Decoration of row of crescent-stamp impressions below two closely-spaced, horizontal comb-impressed lines. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only. ¼in thick.
- P63.131 Body sherd. Decoration of narrow zone of 'ladder-pattern', made with a crescent stamp, below a band or area of vertical hatching and separated from it by a narrow undecorated zone. Incised. ¼in thick.
- P69.132 Small rim sherd. Decoration of small rectangular panel defined by comb-impressed lines and filled with crescent-stamp or finger-nail impressions. Hard fabric containing flint grit. 1/5in to ¼in thick.

Beaker handles.

- P69.133 Part of a strap handle. Decoration with filled and reserved bar chevrons. Carelessly comb impressed. Rather soft fabric containing a little flint grit. 7/8in wide; 1/2in thick at thickest point. Fig. 13
- P63.134 Part of a strap handle. Decoration with vertical zig-zag lines. Comb impressed. Fairly hard fabric; surface abraded. 13/16in wide and 1/2in thick at thickest point. Fig. 13

Beakers with particularly unusual decoration.

- P69.135 Sherd with straight profile. Decoration covering entire sherd consists of equally-spaced, horizontal comb-impressed lines with incised hatching between, the direction of the hatching alternating to give an overall herringbone design. Very neatly executed. Fairly hard fabric containing flint grit. Smooth faced. 1/4in thick. Fig. 21
- P63.136 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration of two horizontal rows of crescent-stamp impressions bordered by single comb-impressed lines, with a narrow undecorated zone between and large comma-shaped stamps fringing them. 1/4in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.137 Body sherd. Decoration with a zone of crescent impressions, bordered by a single, horizontal comb-impressed line, below a zone with large floating circle stamps filled with crescent-stamp impressions. Traces of white incrustation in the impressions. Very hard fabric containing plentiful, rather coarse flint grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.138 Small body sherds. Decoration with a zone of 'ermine' pattern and a zone consisting of a row of concentric circles between small pendant and upright triangles. Comb impressed. Very hard fabric containing a little fine grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.139 Neck sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration with narrow zone bordered by single comb-impressed lines, containing a double row of small, neat lozenge-shaped impressions. Fairly hard fabric containing grog fill only. 3/10in thick. Fig. 21

Beakers on which stamped decoration is combined with finger-pinched rustication.

- P63.140 Rim, neck and body sherds, those from the neck having a straight profile. Decoration of hatched zone or zones below the rim and, on the body, spaced 'crows-foot' pinched rustication below at least one hatched zone about 1in wide. Comb impressed. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 21

- P63.141 Rim sherd with slightly convex curved profile. Decoration with single row of 'crow's-foot' pinches below the rim, above a zone of cross hatching. Comb impressed and incised (?)  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick. Fig. 21
- P69.142 Small body sherd. Association of 'crow's-foot' pinches with carelessly executed, comb impressed horizontal lines, probably in a zoned scheme of decoration. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.143 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration with a single, horizontal comb-impressed line above, or below, a zone of spaced 'crow's-foot' pinches.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick.
- P63.144 Small base sherd with slight foot. Decoration with closely-spaced, random 'crow's-foot' pinches. Traces of comb-impressed decoration above.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

In addition, there are some nineteen sherds with cross hatching on them, too small or featureless to permit further classification. Seventeen of these are comb impressed and the other two incised.

There are seven sherds bearing some kind of panel decoration which cannot be more closely identified. Six of these are comb impressed.

Beakers with jabbed decoration.

- P63. 145 Rim, neck shoulder and base sherds of Southern type beaker with slightly flared neck and pronounced shoulder. Rim diam. 5in; shoulder 5in; base  $3\frac{1}{2}$ in. Height approx.  $6\frac{1}{2}$ in. Decoration of random, but evenly-spaced, small comma-shaped jabs covering the entire vessel. Rather soft fabric containing a little fine flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 22
- P69.146 Base sherd. Diam. approx. 3in. Decoration with two rows of oblique jabs. Fairly hard fabric containing grog fill only.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.147 Body sherd with markedly convex profile. Decoration with small, irregular circular impressions. Fairly hard but slightly flaky fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick.
- P69.148 Small sherd. Decoration with small, closely and evenly-spaced jabs. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

- P69.149 Straight profiled sherd. Decoration with small, evenly and closely-spaced cuneiform jabs. Fairly hard fabric containing plentiful flint grit.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick.
- P69.150 Shoulder sherd. Decoration with rows of small cuneiform jabs. Fairly hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick.
- P69.151 Sherd with roughly straight profile. Decoration with rows of closely-spaced, small irregular impressions, possibly made with a toothed stamp. Hard fabric containing flint grit, some of it coarse.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick.

Small rusticated beaker vessels with 'crow's-foot and plastic-pinched decoration.

- P69.152 Rim sherds and others, all with roughly straight profile. Rim is plain with internal bevel. Decoration of small pinches in horizontal rows about  $\frac{1}{2}$ in apart. Soft fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in to  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 22
- P63.153 Rim and body sherds, apparently from a necked beaker. Rim diam. approx. 5-6in. Neck covered with small pinches, fairly evenly spaced. The lower part of the body of the vessel seems to be decorated with pinches arranged in vertical lines, the break in design coming on the shoulder. Hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick. Fig. 22
- P63.154 Rim and shoulder sherds of necked beaker. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches. There appears to be a break in decoration on the shoulder, below which the pinches are arranged in roughly vertical lines.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 22
- P69.155 Small sherd with roughly straight profile. Decoration of small, 'crow's-foot' pinches, closely spaced and arranged in vertical lines. Hard fabric containing grog only.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P69.156 Two small sherds with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration of small 'crow's-foot' pinches, closely spaced and probably arranged in vertical lines. Fairly soft fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.157 Probable base sherd. Decoration consists of vertical rows of closely-spaced crescent ridges, pushed up with the thumb nail, and opposed finger-nail impressions. Fabric fairly hard, containing a little flint grit. Inside surface almost entirely gone.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick.

- P69.158 Neck and body sherds, apparently of a necked beaker. Decoration of small and closely, but randomly spaced pinches. Fairly hard, slightly flaky fabric containing a little flint grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 22
- P63.159 Small, thick sherds. Decoration of 'crow's-foot' pinches, fairly closely spaced. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 5/16in to 3/8in thick. Possibly from a large vessel.
- P63.160 Straight profiled sherds. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches, possibly arranged in vertical lines. 5/16in thick.

Larger rusticated vessels with pinched decoration.

- P69.161 Rim sherd, convex profile and plain, squared rim. Horizontal rows of paired finger-tip impressions, producing a dimpled rather than pinched effect. Hard fabric containing flint grit, some of it coarse. 5/12in thick. Fig. 23
- P63.162 Base sherd, diam. approx. 5in, and neck or body sherd with straight profile, diam. approx. 6in. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches, possibly arranged in vertical lines on the neck. 5/16in thick. Fig. 23
- P69.163 Rim sherd with very slightly convex curved profile and squared rim. Decoration of spaced pinches. Hard, rather coarse fabric, with coarse flint grit and grog visible on the surface. 3/10in thick; 1/4in at rim. Not certainly form a large vessel. Fig. 23
- P69.164 Base sherd with slight foot, and concave-profiled neck (?) sherds. Decoration of horizontal rows of closely-spaced pinches. Hard, rather brittle fabric containing a little flint grit. 3/8in thick. Surfaces abraded. Fig. 23
- P69.165 Large sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Diam. approx. 6-8in. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches. Very hard fabric containing grog only. 3/10in thick. Fig. 23
- P69.166 Base sherd. Diam. approx. 4in. Decoration of closely-spaced pinches. Hard fabric containing flint grit. 1/4in thick. Fig. 23

Large rusticated vessel decorated with finger-tip impressions.

- P69.167 Sherds of a large, slack-profiled beaker or bucket-shaped vessel. Decorated with pits and slight crescent ridges produced by thumb impressions.

Fairly hard fabric containing fine flint grit.
2/5in thick.

Fig. 24

Rusticated vessels with clubbed rims

P69.168 Rim sherd of coarse, thick-walled vessel, the rim thickened to form heavy 'T' profile. Decoration with finger-tip impressions. Fairly hard, coarse fabric containing coarse flint grit. 1/2in thick, rim 7/8in thick. Fig. 24

P63.169 Rim/neck sherd with straight profile, the rim thickened on outside. Decoration of large pinched bumps on the rim itself and, below this, a row of large, roughly-square bumps pinched from four sides. 2/5in thick. Rim 9/16in thick. Fig. 24

Rusticated vessels with ribbed decoration; indications of zoning.

P69.170 Rim sherd with straight profile. Decoration of vertical lines of pinches, closely spaced to form ribs and divided into two horizontal zones by a narrow break 1in below the rim. Hard fabric containing grog only. 2/5in thick. Fig. 24

P69.171 Neck and body sherds of a large, necked beaker. Pronounced shoulder and straight-profiled neck. Decoration of pinches on the neck which appear to be closely spaced, but random. The body is decorated with low, vertical pinched ribs, rather carelessly executed. Hard fabric containing flint grit. 3/10in thick. Fig. 24

P69.172 Rim sherd with straight profile and slight internal bevel. Decoration comprises, immediately below the rim, a row of crescent ridges pushed up with the finger nail and, below this, flattish pinched ribs. Hard fabric containing flint grit. 3/10in thick, rim 7/16in thick. Fig. 24

P63.173 Shoulder sherd with pronounced convex curve. Decoration comprises, on the shoulder, a single row of spaced pinches and, below it, vertical lines of paired finger-nail impressions forming flattish ribs. 3/10in thick. Fig. 24

Zoned (?) rusticated vessels incorporating square-pinched bumps.

P69.174 Rim and neck sherd, the lower neck having a roughly-straight profile and the rim being internally bevelled and slightly incurving. Approx. 8in. Decoration comprises two rows of square bumps pinched from four sides immediately below the rim and, below this, vertical lines alternately of upright and oblique-spaced pinches. Hard fabric containing fine flint grit. 3/8in thick.

- P63.175 Small sherd with straight profile. Vertical rows, alternately of closely-spaced pinches, forming ribs, and of square bumps, pinched up from four sides. 2/5in thick.

Giant, zoned rusticated beakers.

- P63.176 Neck, shoulder and body sherds. Straight neck profile and pronounced shoulder. Neck diam. approx. 8in; shoulder approx. 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. Decoration of vertical pinched ribs on neck and body, divided on the shoulder by an undecorated zone and horizontal incised lines. 7/16in thick. Fig. 25
- P63.177 Rim and neck sherds. Roughly straight neck profile, swinging out slightly to shoulder (?). Rim diam. approx. 11in. Height of neck approx. 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. Decoration consists of three horizontal lines of pinches forming ribs below the rim, with the rest of the neck covered by vertical lines of closely-spaced pinches. 3/8in thick. Fig. 25
- P63.178 Large shoulder sherd. Neck diam. approx. 7in; shoulder approx. 9-9 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. Decoration of horizontal, non-plastic 'ribs' on the shoulder above similar but vertical nail impressions. Black fabric containing flint grit and with a smooth, slightly glossy surface. 3/8in thick. Fig. 26
- P69.179 Rim and neck sherds with internally bevelled rim and with a slightly concave curve in the profile near the base of the neck. Rim diam. approx. 8-9in. Decoration on the neck divided into at least four zones. Three or more rows of spaced pinches below the neck and another zone of spaced pinches in the middle of the neck, alternating with two rows of long, maggot-like impressions, probably made with a bone. Fairly hard fabric containing a little flint grit. 3/10in to 3/8in thick. Fig. 25

Zoned rusticated beaker of small or average size.

- P69.180 Rim and neck (?) sherds with straight profile. At least two zones of decoration. A narrow zone of vertical ribs immediately below the rim, above a zone of horizontal ribs, the ribs being small, probably worked up with a sliver of bone or wood rather than pinched up with the finger and thumb. Rather soft fabric containing a little flint grit. Ring-built - the sherds are broken along the line of a coil. 1/5in thick. Fig. 22

- P63.181 Rim and neck sherds with slightly convex profile. Rim diam. approx. 7in. Decoration of two horizontal pinched ribs below the neck above a zone of vertical lines of spaced pinches. Rather soft fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in thick. Fig. 25
- P69.182 Two small sherds with straight profile. Decoration of horizontal flattish 'ribs', delicately incised with a sliver of bone or wood or possibly with the finger nails, and a zone of spaced 'crow's-foot' pinches. Hard fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.183 Small sherd with slightly convex curved profile. Decoration with horizontal pinched rib above zone of closely-spaced pinches.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.184 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration with a row of small, horizontal pinches, closely spaced, below a zone of closely-spaced vertical pinches.  $\frac{1}{5}$ in thick.
- P63.185 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration with a horizontal flattish pinched rib, above a zone of vertical rows of closely-spaced 'crow's-foot' pinches.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.186 Small sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration with a zone of closely-spaced pinches and a zone of at least two flattish horizontal pinched ribs.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.187 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration with a row of horizontal pinches, closely spaced, and indications of a zone of vertical pinches.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.

Sherds with ribbed decoration, probably from zoned, rusticated vessels.

- P63.188 Small base sherd, footed. Decoration with horizontal pinched rib.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P63.189 Small shoulder sherd with markedly convex profile. Decoration of horizontal pinched ribs.  $\frac{3}{16}$ in thick.
- P69.190 Small sherd with straight profile. Decoration with flattish, horizontal pinched ribs. Rather soft, flaky fabric containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{4}$ in thick.
- P69.191 Base sherd. Decoration of horizontal pinched rib. Fairly hard but flaky fabric, containing grog fill only.  $\frac{1}{3}$ in thick.

Sherds with ribbed decoration, probably from large, zoned, rusticated vessels.

- P69.192 Small, thick sherd decorated with horizontal pinched ribs. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{1}{3}$ in thick.
- P69.193 Small, thick sherd decorated with closely spaced, horizontal pinched ribs. Hard fabric, containing a little flint grit.  $\frac{1}{3}$ in thick.
- P63.194 Small, thick sherd with slightly convex curved profile. Decoration of closely spaced horizontal pinched ribs.  $\frac{3}{10}$ in to  $\frac{7}{16}$ in thick.
- P63.195 Thick sherds with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration of closely spaced horizontal pinched ribs.  $\frac{7}{16}$ in thick.
- P69.196 Small, thick sherds decorated with flattish horizontal ribs, similar to P69.197. Hard, slightly flaky fabric containing coarse flint grit, unevenly distributed.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick. Fig. 26
- P69.197 Large, thick sherd, decorated with slight, horizontal ribs formed between paired finger-tip impressions. Hard fabric containing flint grit.  $\frac{7}{16}$ in thick.
- P63.198 Sherd with very slightly convex curved profile. Decoration of vertical pinched ribs.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick.
- P63.199 Neck and body sherds, the neck having a slightly concave curved profile. Diam. of body at widest point, approx.  $6\frac{1}{4}$ in. Decoration of widely-spaced vertical rows of 'crow's-foot' finger-nail impressions, giving the impression of non-plastic ribs on neck and body. Possibly zoned. Fairly hard, sandy textured fabric.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in to  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick. Fig. 26

Vessels with non-plastic rustication - horizontal bands of paired finger-nail impressions.

- P63.200 Sherd with very slightly convex curved profile, probably from a large vessel. Diam. approx. 9in. Decoration of horizontal bands of paired, opposed finger-nail impressions.  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick.
- P63.201 Neck and shoulder sherds. Slightly concave curved neck profile, with pronounced shoulder. Both decorated with closely-spaced horizontal rows of paired, opposed finger-nail impressions. No indication of zoning.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in thick. Fig. 26

Rusticated vessels decorated with finger-nail incisions.

- P63.202 Rim and neck sherds of Southern type beaker. Decoration of finger-nail impressions grouped in pairs (non-opposed)  $\frac{1}{4}$ in to  $\frac{3}{8}$ in thick. Fig. 26
- P63.203 Neck/shoulder sherd (?) with concave curved profile and marked thickening at the shoulder. Decoration with spaced finger-nail impressions.  $\frac{5}{16}$ in to  $\frac{1}{2}$ in thick. Fig. 26
- P69.204 Small sherd with slightly concave curved profile. Decoration of two rows (at least) with a horizontal ridge in between. Fairly hard fabric containing a little coarse flint grit.  $\frac{1}{3}$ in thick.

In addition, the 'Oaks' site produced ninety-two small sherds bearing spaced, finger-pinched decoration.

Undecorated sherds.

About 152 sherds of Beaker or probable Beaker pottery, identified by similarity of fabric to decorated beaker sherds found on the site. This includes coarse and relatively fine wares, but mostly coarse. No examples of completely undecorated Beaker vessels known for certain from the site.