

Background mapping based on site plan supplied by Headland Archaeology

- magnetic anomalies (archaeological ?)
- strong (recent ?) magnetic disturbances
- small background magnetic anomalies (natural / non-archaeological ?)
- strong magnetic anomalies (mainly ferrous)
- broad / irregular magnetic anomalies (alluvial ground ?)
- pipe (and associated magnetic disturbance)
- power line
- cultivation
- land drains ?
- possible trackway

White Rose CCS Facility,
 Drax, North Yorkshire
 Geophysical Surveys 2012-13
 Illustration 12: Magnetometer survey
 (summary of findings)

0 1:2500 100m

Surveyed by: Bartlett-Clark Consultancy 01865 200864
 for: Headland Archaeology (UK) Ltd