

Fig 115 Core relationships and Harris Matrix. The 50 core relationships are indicated with horizontal lines, showing urns that were found together and were therefore considered to be contemporary, and angled lines showing intercut, and therefore successive, urns. These relationships were then transferred to the Harris Matrix using Arched software

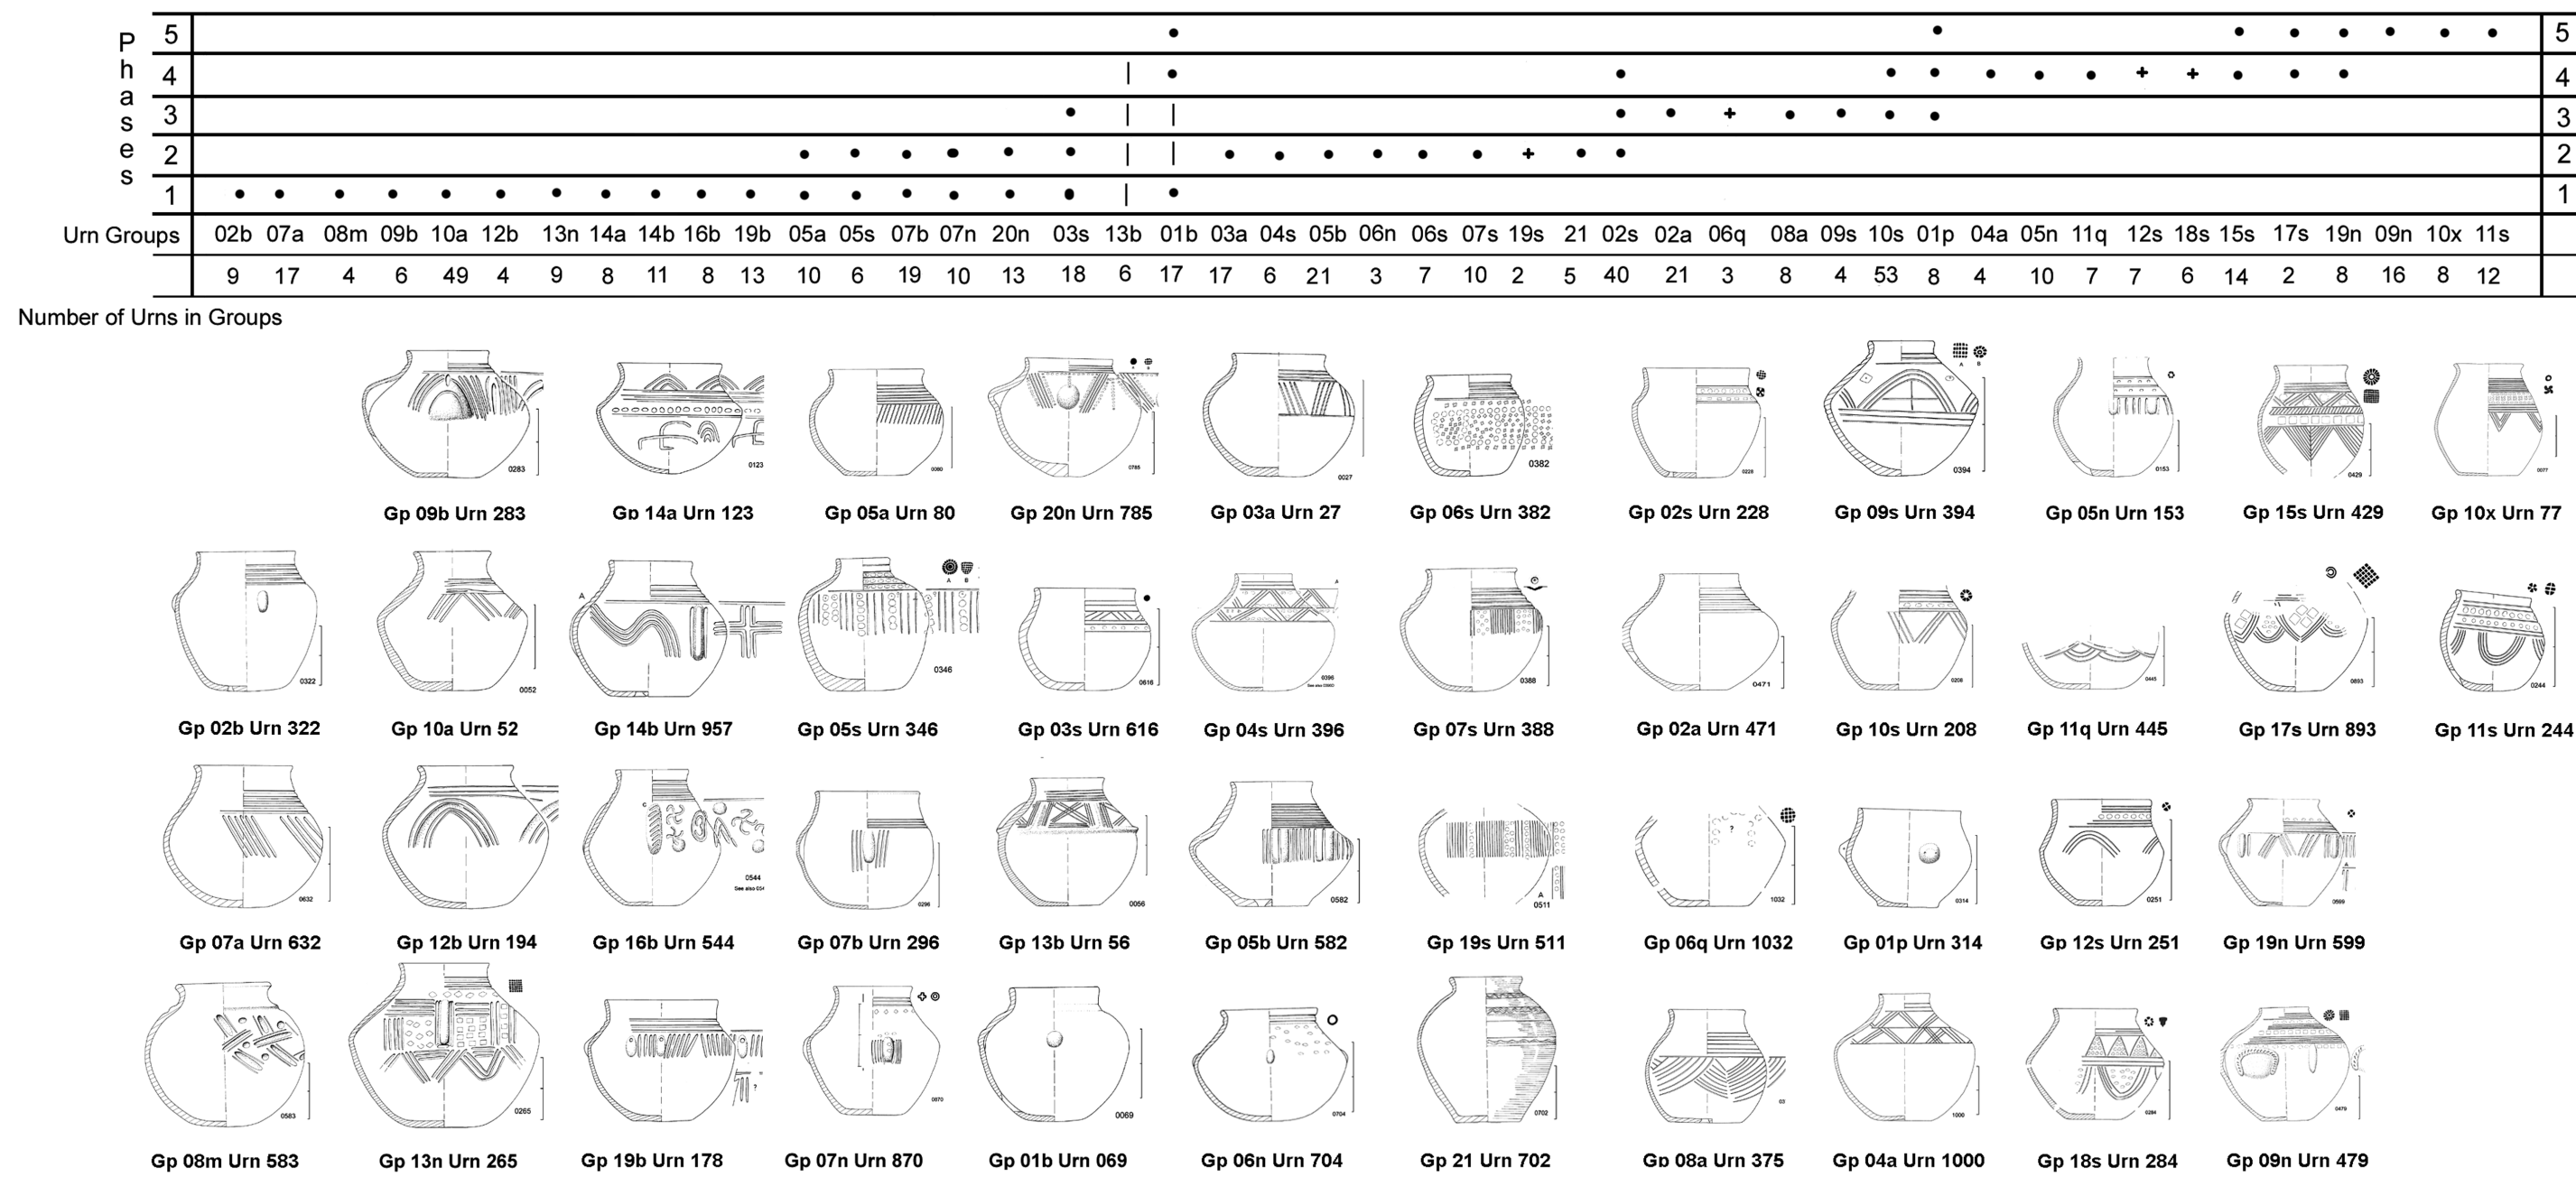

Fig 116 Urn sequence. The earliest urns are on the left, the latest on the right. The dots on the chart show the phases in which a particular urn group was in use
