

VII.—THE WINSTON (CO. DURHAM) CHURCHWARDENS' ACCOUNTS, A.D. 1632-1695.

[Transcribed by MISS EDLESTON, of Gainford, and communicated to the Society on the 29th day of August, 1894.]

THE earliest Winston parish accounts, kept with the registers in a safe at the rectory, are written on forty-six leaves of paper, loosely stitched together, without a cover. They contain the yearly accounts of the overseers from 1632 to 1643—the amounts collected monthly for the poor, with the names of the recipients, lists of the inhabitants as they were rated from time to time, and the names of those to whom the 'Poor Stock' was lent. There are no entries from 1643 to 1647, and from that date to 1662 the names only of the churchwardens, overseers for the poor, and highways, and the holders of the poor stock, are recorded. The rest of the book contains churchwardens' accounts beginning in 1662, overseers' accounts and rates to 1667, with names of parish officers to 1679, and accounts of the poor stock to 1698. On April 2nd, 1678, it was agreed that the parish clerk should have 12d. a year for writing the churchwardens' accounts in a book to be provided for that purpose. A book, the first three leaves of which are lost, contains churchwardens', overseers', and constables' accounts from 1677 to 1729.

The plague which broke out at Osmoncroft and Winston in 1636 is alluded to here. The churchwardens and overseers agreed to lend John Newcome 40s. to bind his son apprentice, but before all the money was paid five of his children died of the plague, so his son learnt his father's trade. In 1635, an order was made that the poor stock was to be paid in on Easter tuesday in the chancel, but in 1641 the vestry is named. There is now no vestry at Winston church. In 1677 and later, the rector, Peter Lancaster, records that he claimed his privilege of choosing one of the churchwardens, but waived it for 'this present year,' and on April 22nd, 1679, the rector and parishioners agreed, for the better management of the parish affairs, to choose six men to join with the churchwardens.

During the earlier years of these accounts, there seem to have been communions five times a year, at Christmas, Palm Sunday, Easter, Whitsuntide, and about Michaelmas, but after the Restoration at Christmas and Easter only. In 1662-3 there are payments for the surplice, hood, and font, and in 1664-5 several expences connected with the bishop's and archdeacon's visitations, for books, plastering the church, and writing the sentences. In 1666 the churchwardens received 1s. 8d. for a 'lairstone.' The rectors during the period covered by these accounts were Richard Thursby, inducted 12th Aug., 1631, died 7th, buried 8th July, 1651; Cuthbert Marley, 165., buried 18th Feb., 1674-5; and Peter Lancaster, 1675, died 5th September, 1706, who has a monument in the chancel. The present rector, the Rev. F. E. Sadgrove, has most kindly lent these accounts to be copied.
