

Domesday — Roger de Baslie.

LOVETOTS
approx
150 yrs.

Lovetots — Early Henry I — 1100 — 1135
Last Lovetot. died — 1176 — 1181
Maud de Lovetot married Gerard de Furnival.

Popltn 792

Furnival
200 Yrs.

Furnival's castle burnt 1266
Re-fortified by charter. 1270 Henry III.
Shel. Chester 1297
Furnival's heir male fails 1383
Joan de Furnival — Sir Tho Nevil
Maud de Nevil — Sir J. Talbot

SHREWSBURY

250 yrs.

IV Earl - George Found Shrewsbury Chapel
V .. Francis died 1551 - Entertained Wolsey 17-18 days.
VI .. George - Mary Q. of Scots 1571 for 14 yrs to 1584
Population then 1500.
Lady Althea Talbot married Tho. Howard, Earl of Arundel
& Norfolk

Howards

Shill-hall
Shel.

First sale of castle site 1899 & Co-Op in 1915
800 yrs at least unbroken family tenure.
Siege . 1644
Gala for dem. 1646
Burned out 1649-50

There are no earthworks or ruins in the district to indicate the site of a building of the medieval or an and.

junction of the Don & the Sheaf which we now know to be the site of the castle of the later Lords of Hallam. For me, ^{The Castle Hill} ~~that~~ is the ^{most probable} side of the Hall of Waltheof & the excavations now in progress have already revealed evidences which go far to establish ~~it~~ that assumption.

(A)

Apparently the three Saxon lords, Waltheof, Sweyn & Ulfac, put up a stout resistance to the Norman invaders & as a result, the four manors were savagely laid waste, as evidenced by ^{the} Doomsday survey.

Sweyn & Ulfac were dispossessed, but Waltheof seems to have trimmed his sails, like the Ducal of Brax, and so effectively made friends with the enemy, that he was given the Countess Judith, niece of the Conqueror in marriage & not only retained the Lordship of Hallam, but secured the manors of Sheffield, Attercliffe & Grimesthope in addition.

Waltheof was a man of outstanding eminence amongst the Saxons & it was hardly to be expected that he could ^{for long} quietly submit to the Norman yoke, ~~it~~ bear the insolence of the knights & see his old friend & knight oppressed by them, therefore it is not surprising that he was soon in arms against William, ^{charged with conspiring against his} ~~conspiring against his life~~ ^{life, & ultimately} ~~for which he was convicted~~ of treason and executed at Winchester in 1075.

(2)

The Countess
Judith, however, being the niece of William was allowed to retain the vast estates of Waltham, ~~but~~ ^{she} herself fell into disfavour by ~~through~~ refusing to marry a Norman knight named Simon St. Liz — "because he was lame of a leg". St. Liz consoled himself with Judith's daughter, ^{however} & took with her the Earldom of Northampton.

Judith appears to have retained the lordship of ^{Sheffield & Attercliffe} Hallam, & in Doomsday book we find ^{these grey} ~~the~~ held of her, by Roger-de-Busli together with Attercliffe & Sheffield the manor of Grimethorpe, ^{apparently} ~~probably~~ ^{granted & typically} for the feudal service of "two white grey-hounds yearly". We next find the De Lovetots in possession.

How, or when, the family of De Lovetot acquired their interest in these manors, we don't know, but early in the reign of Henry I — 1100-1135, William De Lovetot was in possession, ^{of Hallam,} also of Scaresboro &

She appears to have been a proto Mrs. Pankhurst and stood for woman's rights!
a dangerous thing in those days &
very soon

Lovetot.

Workshop & ~~other~~ ^{many other} Nottingham manors.

With the Lovetots the reliable history of Sheffield commences.

Whether the first De Lovetot built the original castle or found one already existing there, ^{previously} - which I am inclined to think he did - built by Sweyn or Walthoefpis uncertain but there upon the slope of the hill between the Don & the Sheaf the baronial hall of the Lovetots ~~was certainly~~ unquestionably stood.

They were a generous race & established the Priory of Workshop & in proximity to their castle at Sheffield ^{Sheffield owes much to them. They} founded a spacious Church, ^{the present Cathedral,} and attached it to the Priory. Under their rule the town prospered & we read of them erecting a mill, a bridge across the Don & a Hospital on Spital Hill, dedicated to St. Leonard, & which persisted until the time of Henry VIII. A market was established & in the Sheffield of that day we see all the essentials of a prosperous town, ~~growing~~ protected by a strong castle & which in extent was but little less than the Sheffield of a century ago, seen on Fairbanks survey.

Three generations of Lovetots held the Lordship the last male heir dying between 1176 & 1181. His

Leads to Roman settlement Probable.

heir, Maudie-de-Lovetot, a child, became De Furnival a ward of the King & about 1190-99 was given by Richard Coeur de Lion in marriage to a young Norman knight - Genard-de-Furnival son of one of Richard's companions in arms & who had fought with him at the siege of Acre.

For 180 years the De Furnivals held the Lordship taking an active part in all the events of the day.
The first De Furnival was slain at Jerusalem in the Third Crusade & ^{was} succeeded by his son ~~who~~ Thomas who also fell in Palestine in ^{1237.} ~~1219~~
Edward, his brother, ^{then} became Lord of Hallamshire.

Tradition of his return to Palestine was diminished by fact of the Infidels.
for bones of Thomas:

Buried (both) at Dorchester.

There is reason to believe that the Castle of the ^{Furnivals} suffered in the troubles between King John
& the Barons & was probably partly destroyed then.
Later, in the troubles ^{between} Henry 3 & the Barons, headed by Simon Montfort, the Castle & seemingly the town also, was burned by the Barons & destroyed, in ¹²⁶⁵. This was figured large in those stirring times & a big battle was fought at Chesterfield, when the Barons were finally routed. ^{Thomas de} ~~The~~ Furnival had ^{Stoutly} adhered to the King ^{as a reward,} & in 1270 was permitted to rebuild & fortify his castle here.

Describe ^{id.} ~~the~~ ^{is} the
^{of this} ruin we have found.

A Chapel in this castle, which was of spacious, magnificent & strong.

Chamber for market on Tuesdays & a fair of 3 days.
There were the early days of the rise of industry & Sheffield prospered during the golden century of commercial peace.

Shrewsbury

Finally, in 1383 by failure of a male heir the estates passed by marriage of Joan de-Furnival, a girl of 14, to Sir Thomas Nevil and again in default of a son, their daughter, Maid de Nevil, aged 17, carried the estates into the noble family of Shrewsbury by her marriage with John Talbot, Earl of Shrewsbury, one of the most outstanding noblemen of his day & whose name is immortalized by Shakespeare in Henry VI.

John Talbot

He honourably served King & country in the field, was Commander in Chief in France during war with Joan of Arc. Captured - 5 yrs in prison - Ransomed at great cost - 4 times Lord which included a secretary, physician, page, gentlemen in waiting, cook, maids & lower women.

Letters — birds — dogs.

How time spent.

Strictest confinement.

40 selected tenants to guard castle night
& day. Swords, bows & staves forbidden,
In at 9 & not out before 6.

1-hour notice before she walked abroad.

Dated ~~Sept. 9/1584~~ April 26/1571

Left. Sept. 3/1584 ^{nearly} ~~14~~ 14 years spent here.

Manor had been erected early in Henry 8 reign.
when the habits of the nobility called for more comfort & luxury & there was less call for places of strength. Country was more settled & secure.

20-6
5-6
14-0

In 1606 the male line ends ^{of the Shrewsbury} & Lady Alcester Talbot carried the estates to their present owners
the Howards, by her marriage with Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel & Surrey.

At the time of the Norman conquest the locality of Sheffield was comprised in four Manors, rich cleared land, set amidst a ring of dense forests & wild heath-land which clothed the uplands, ^{and} ~~and~~ was in the hands of three Saxons,

⁴⁰
Loverdale 100
Furnwith 200
Shewsbury 250

550

^{who} Sweyn held Sheffield & Attercliffe with other rich manors further north, ^{who} Ulfac held Grimsthorpe, & Hallam, the widest & richest of the four, ^{was} held by Waltheof, Earl of Northumberland, Huntingdon & Northampton, ^a descendant of a long line of Danish & Saxon kings & illustrious thrones.

^{affair}
We are told that in Hallam Waltheof had an ^{which was} Aula, ^{In Saxon times law Aula} his court & residence, ~~which~~ was as much superior to the ordinary manor houses of the day as are Chatsworth & Wentworth to the mansions of the lesser nobility of ~~that~~ ^{of} ours.

Where the aula of Waltheof stood is a matter of conjecture & of controversy, but in all the district there is no site so suitable or so readily defended, as that ~~of the~~ at the

Perhaps few of us realize how closely ~~the~~ Sheffield Castle is linked up with ~~the~~ ^{most} of the great outstanding events of our National history from the conquest down to the ^{rise} fall of the Commonwealth.
In the brief time at my disposal I can but ~~try~~ include ^{brief outline of the most} the ~~most~~ outstanding features of its history.

Conquest.

Sweyn, - Sheffield
Ulfae. - Grimsthorpe
Walthof - Hallam.

? Walthof resident here.

1069

Hostage taken by W. to Normandy.

1069 in rebellion & sacks York.

Companion activities & devastates North.

Forgerius

marries niece (Judith) of Wm.

Made Earl of Northumberland.

1076

Rebels & besieged at W. in Chester.

Doomsday.

Roger de Busli holds Hallam of Judith.

Loxton.

1100-1135

to 1170 possibly 90 yrs

Early in reign of Henry I. 1100-1135. Established here certainly in 1140

Walsloh
Orney founded

Church

Mill

Hospital

} years of peace & plenty Dues & encouragement of abbey.
Building activity.

(A)

Furnivils.

1170 (relict)

1383

200 yrs

Three generations hold it. Last heir dyes 1176-1181

& Maud-de-Loxton 1170- to 1177 was given by Richard to son of old companion

Genard de Furnivils.

Scout at Jerusalem - 3rd Crusade

& followed by Thomas who also fell crusading

Genard his brother follows & fetches bones of Thomas back from Palestine.

(Soil desecrated by feet of the infidel)

1265

Castle & Town burned by Barons

(1)

1270

Thos. de Furnival permitted to rebuild by Henry III.

"Spacious & ^{magnificent} strong" 4 & 4 1/2 ac.

Probably ditch already there S. & W. (4? east)

Dit not conform to it.

Hannou, in 1637.

Extent:- Don & Dixon Lane.

Sheep - Castle Green.

"Fairly built & spacious of stone & very spacious containing divers buildings & lodgings about an inward courtyard."

South an "outward court, or fould, ^{our Castle's Market area,} built around with various houses of offices, an armoury, a granary, barns, stables & lodgings. The entrance was on the south side, by a drawbridge across the ditch & a wide ditch extended on south & west sides ^{? not traced.}

In the middle was a chapel &c

Population 1379 was only 792

Furnival obtained charter for market on Tuesdays

& a fair of 3 days. craftsmen were encouraged & there was a steady growth of industry. The Sheep Market of 1297. Copy is on view in the castle

Market

B.X

1383

Furnival fail:- Joan-de-Furnival, married Sir

Thos. Meil & in default of son again - Maud de-Meil, their daughter, aged 17 married the great

Sir John Talbot, afterwards 1st Lord Shrewsbury.

(2)

Shrewsbury

Fair representation people's Park collected.

Read

Shrewsbury
roughly 250 yrs.

One of the outstanding figures of the middle ages & one of last of great knights of chivalry.
Commander in Chief against Joan of Arc.

Captured by her. - 5 yrs in prison - ransom & exchanged for a French nobleman.

The "Achilles of England" - Batty says.

4 Times Lord Chief Justice of Ireland - no light job.

Return to France & slain at Chetillon "while on the ground." Head buried in porch at Whitchurch & bones later brought over from France & buried there.

IVth Earl. George. ^{Shrewsbury} Founder of Chapel at Shef. & is buried there. Manor built.

Succession of all the French & then

Manor built Comfort & safety place of strength

Died 1551 Francis IVth Earl. Received Wolsey at the Manor. 17-18 days
Chief mourner at funerals of Henry 8 & Edward 6.

Young to London with company 140 horse & before him
40 velvet coats & chairs & all wearing his own livery

Funeral May 1551 - See "Miscellany"

George 6th Earl.
1557 -

The custodian of Mary & husband of Bess of Hardwick.
1571 Train of 30 - Physicians, Sec., cooks, pages & maids etc.
Tenants have to eat her goods free as service for Earl.

Mary Q. S.
april 1571
for 14 yrs.
to Sept. 1584

Watched by 40 selected tenants day & night. Swords & bows forbidden. Retire at 9 & to wear the Earl of entreaties to walk abroad 1 hour before lunch.

Keep chamber in case of alarm.

Mary's plotting

Schemes for escape in disguise.

Berlitzing friends & a beheading wife.

A jealous Queen & a bloody Irish prisoner

Population 1561 - 1500 person.

See ⊕ C

Lady Althea Talbot marries Thomas Howard Earl of Arundel & estates brought into present Family of Norfolk.
The first sale of castle site - unless Lovelock's purchase was to the Corp in 1899 & to Co. Op in 1915

The Howards have always been loyal to the King & hence in the troublous days of the Civil Wars they adhered to Charles.

Establishments were still kept up at both the Castle & Manor, but mere shadows of their former glory.

Population in 1615 grown to 2209.

In 1642 "4 wheel pieces" & arms, were sent from the castle for the use of the King at Doncaster. Sheffield was strongly Parliamentarian.

An early look see of B. & Calverton under John Bright of Calverton.

Castle seized for Parliament by townsmen in 1643

but they fled on approach of Duke of Newcastle & a garrison was placed there under Sir Wm. Saville a grandson of the 1st Earl of Arundel who held it — See over → 74

~~A troop of horse & 200 men.~~

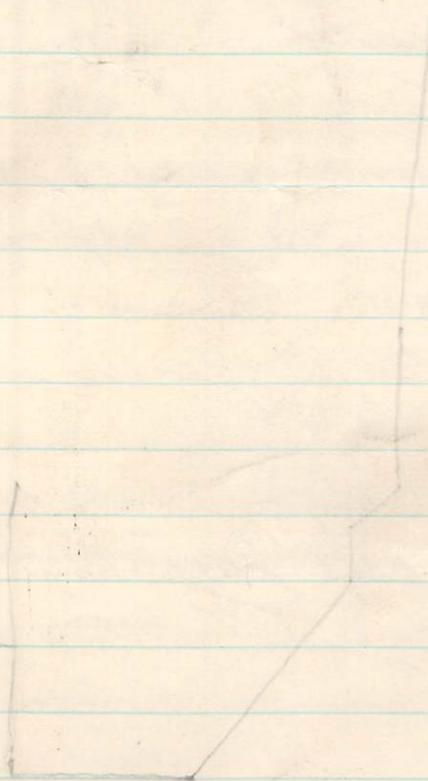

See next sheet.

~~A broad & deep trench of 18 feet deep & water in it, walls 2 yds. thick, 8 pieces of iron ordnance & 2 mortar pieces.~~

Attached by: → 1200 men & regiment of horse under General Crawford & Col. Packer; 3 biggest pieces of artillery; 3 batteries within 3000 yds. Queen's Park Ditch Surrendered. Aug 11 - 1644

~~Parliament~~ House of Parliament ⁱⁿ 1644 it was dissolved, but not reconstituted until 1649 - 50

* Parliamentary Chronicle:—

'In battle:— a troop of horse & 200 foot strongly fortified with a wide & deep trench of 18 feet deep & water in it, a strong bread work palisaded, a wall round 2 yds thick, 8 pieces of iron ordnance & 2 mortar pieces, sent three great shot which did execution & then sent a summons to castle who shot three times at the trumpeter, two of which shots came very near & hardly mist him! & they flourished their swords & eyed would have no parley"

2 battalions within 300 yds. & fought 24
hrs. but only with a demi culverin.

Send for full culverin & the "Queen Pocket pistol"— the Big Beatha of that was evidently.

Finally surrendered. Aug 11th 1644.

Cabriel Hemsworth was one of the negotiators.

Order for demol.
1644 sent to 1649-50