ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

(any further details that may be important for understanding the context, including items marked * overleaf)

Contains more clay than (730971) and is also distinguished by small flecks of charcoal which are clearly visible in section. The red pot in section likely belonged to the fill but disintegrated upon collection. Contained infrequent bone. A possible cow skull + worked flint which were recovered further down the section for additional finds collection on the surface were ca. 10cm in depth and could be from (730972), rather than (730971) which they were bagged under.
