BRASS AT STONY STRATFORD

In a cupboard in the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Stony Stratford (which was burnt down in 1742, excepting the west tower of the mid-15th century), was recently found a brass to Tobyas Paynn, 20 June, 1692, and his son of the same name. The brass concludes:

THEY
 AEE GON TO EUEREASTING [sic] REST
 WITH SAINTS AND ANGELLS TO BEE
 FOR EUER BLEST

LANTERN LECTURE

The lantern slides have been exhibited in three more parishes since the last issue of the " Records," namely, at Berton, Stone, and Cheshani Bois. When one considers how good is the attendance at the exhibition of these slides it is unfortunate that no support has been forthcoming- so as to extend their range to the eastern and southern portions of the county.
