

NOTES

PHOTOGRAPHIC RECORDS
OF CHURCHES AND IMPORTANT
SECULAR BUILDINGS.

Many buildings of historic interest or architectural importance have been damaged as a result of enemy action. And in this County an attempt is being made to secure photographic and other records of churches and important secular buildings, so as to facilitate their accurate repair or restoration in the event of their being damaged, and to provide a record in case of their destruction.

The Bucks Archeological Society is organising this work in the county, in conjunction with the Central Council for the Care of Churches, whose pamphlet is enclosed with this issue of the "Record." Volunteer helpers are urgently needed, both to take the actual photographs and to assist in compiling lists and organising the work. Will anyone who is willing to help please communicate with the Temporary Hon. Secretary,

E. CLIVE ROUSE,

Oldhurst,

Gerrards Cross,

from whom all particulars may be obtained.

BRONZE AGE RELIC FROM WADDES DON

In the recent Antiquaries Journal, the gift of two gold bracelets of the Late Bronze Age to the British Museum is reported by Mr. T. D. Kendrick. They were found 40 or 50 years ago in ploughed land at Waddesdon, and have now been presented by Capt. J. H. S. Clark, of Wareham. The larger is 2.7 inches across, and weighs 763.4 grains.
