

Figure 6: Aerial photograph taken in April 1947. The site is outlined in red: the relict river bank can be seen as a diffuse pale stripe, but only two of the group of barrows crossing the parish boundary are clearly visible. The Car Dyke canal can be seen as many sections of a light-coloured, linear cropmark; three elements of the Washingborough Barrow Cemetery are marked.