John Lewis – Scotia Archaeology

NN 8056 4008 to NN 8190 4033; NN 8122 4100 to NN 8149 4049 Walk-over surveys were undertaken on 24 May 2013 along the proposed routes of two hydro-electric schemes at Pitmackie, Glen Quoich. A desk study identified the remains of several farmsteads (NN84SW 11, NN84SW 12, NN84SW 13, NN84SW 14, NN84SW 23, NN84SW 24) along these routes. However, two further settlements were encountered during the walk-over survey. The scant remains of a probable farmstead comprising two, or possibly three, buildings was identified on the N bank of the River Quoich at NN 81615 40334. Close to an unnamed burn that feeds into the river, at NN 81229 40864, stand the lower surviving courses of what was probably a shieling hut.
