

Fig. 10.4: The square building abutting the dam at Caesarea. The two vertical Roman shafts are at A. The two cuttings between A and B are Turkish [Schjøler 1989, fig. 1].