

EAA Session 350: Sustainability, Unsustainability and Opportunity for Archaeological Data

Abstract:

The rise of digital data in archaeology has created a sustainability crisis requiring urgent action, while also creating opportunities. The majority of archaeological interventions are non-repeatable, and the careful recording carried out to document the resource becomes primary data. As this data is increasingly undertaken using digital methods and tools, archaeological data is often born digital, and with no paper surrogates for the primary record. Archaeological researchers are creative and innovative in their methodologies; adopting, adapting and developing novel techniques and approaches, requiring stewardship of a far greater variety of data formats than other cultural and scientific domains, along with more complex understandings of data re-use. This combination of factors, along with the challenges created by development-led archaeology and a research environment focused on project-by-project funding models, makes moving to a sustainable model even more challenging.

At the same time, work around stewardship and management of archaeological data has contributed to the creation of persistent resources, including an increase in the availability of open access to 'grey literature', and data from diverse providers has been made interoperable and cross-searchable across national boundaries. Continued effort to make archaeological data open, persistent and sustainable are urgently needed, and archaeologists must work together to raise awareness and take action. The ARIANDEplus infrastructure (<https://ariadne-infrastructure.eu/>) and Saving European Archaeology from the Digital Dark Age (COST Action SEADDA, <https://seadda.eu/>), invites papers discussing the sustainability of archaeological data, exemplars of open data and data re-use, and technologies and initiatives that promote interoperability and persistent resources. This session also welcomes papers discussing challenges associated with the sustainability of archaeological data, to promote better understanding of how we may work together as a community to address them.

What is ARIADNEplus?

ARIADNEplus* (2019-2022) is the continuation & extension of ARIADNE (2013-2017)

- It builds on ARIADNE results
- It extends ARIADNE along several dimensions
- It focuses ARIADNE on innovative services
- It embeds ARIADNE in the EOSC

Our mission: to interpret and answer the research community needs for studying the past to better understand the present with the tools and the methodology of the future, in the service of research, culture and society.

The #ARIADNEplus team is happy to present its integration model and show how its digital platform enables collaborative work.

Thanks to colleagues of #APOLLONIS and @athenaRICinfo for showing, with this initiative, that #DH and #CH are stronger than #COVID19

Reviewing community needs - SFRG (T2.2)

Word cloud of 85 terms for data types and systems derived from keywords for research interests of the survey respondents [N=452].

Organisational background

[N=482]

Main professional activities

[N=484]

Data sharing and reuse

Is project data of your research group/organisation typically being made available through an accessible repository (institutional, national or other subject-/domain-based repository) [N=437-457]

Did you / your research group in the last 2 years use any data which other researchers made available through a publicly accessible digital repository or databases? [N=376]

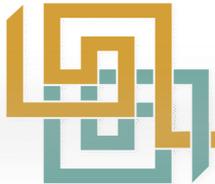

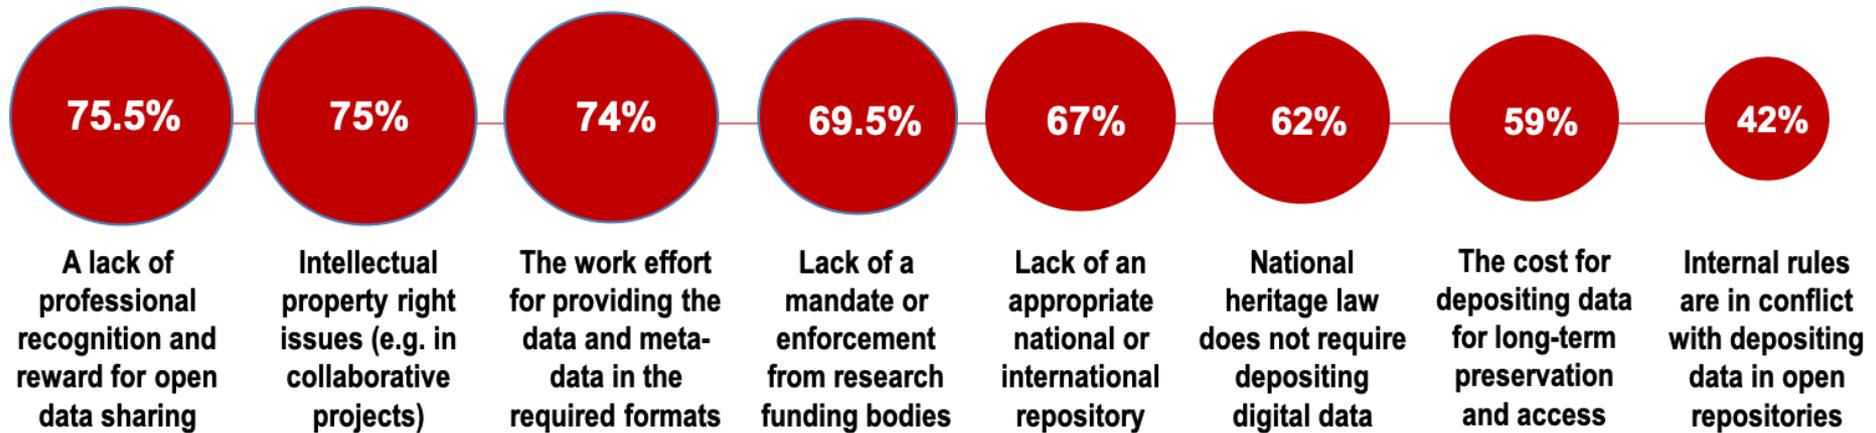

Do you agree to the following statement: "In the last 5 years the readiness of archaeologists to share data through publicly accessible repositories or data-bases increased"? [N=376]

Reviewing community needs - SFRG (T2.2)

Barriers to deposit research data in digital repositories

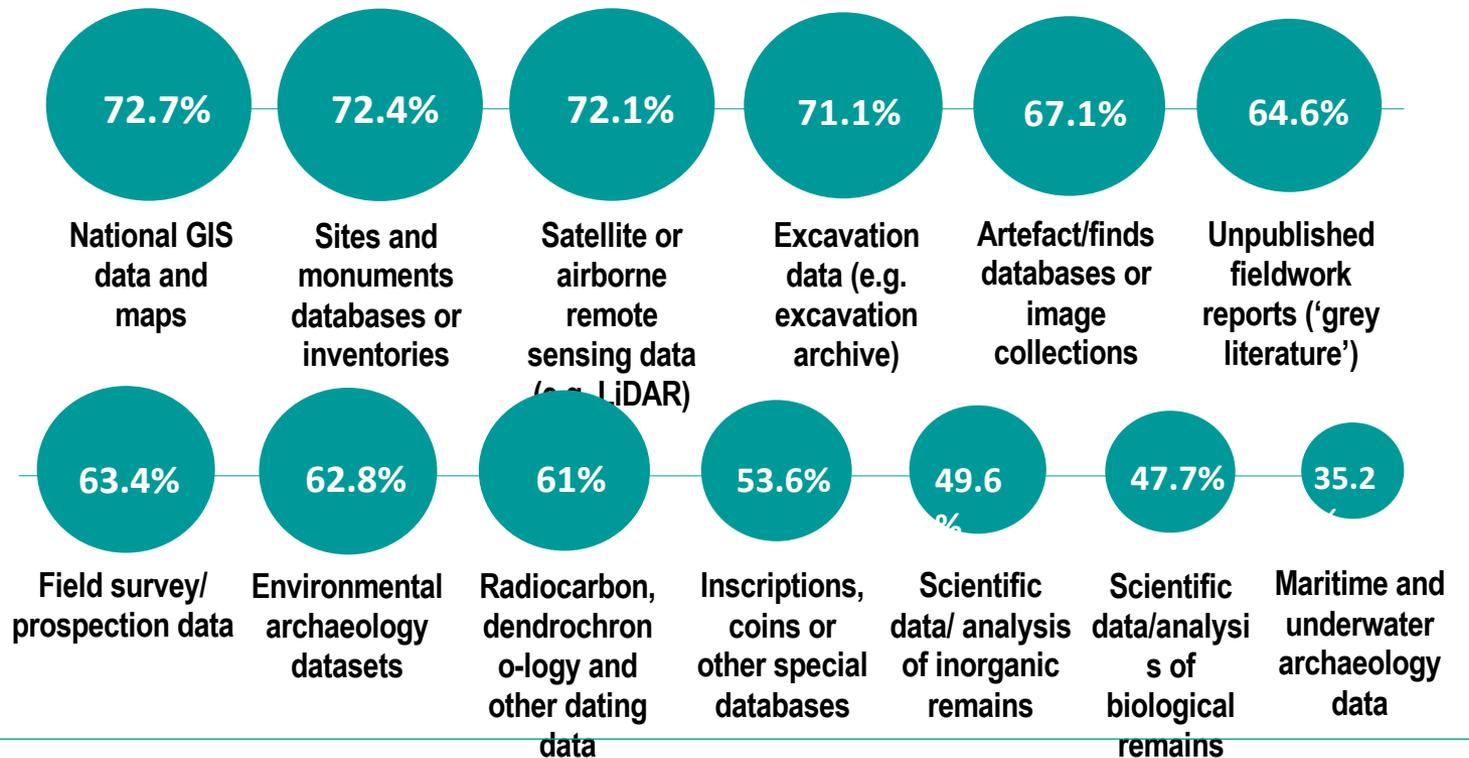

Results for “very” or “rather” important [N = 398-415]

Data discovery and access

Discover and access archaeological datasets from different providers via the ARIADNEplus data portal – Results for “very helpful” [N = 341-355]:

Services for researchers and data managers

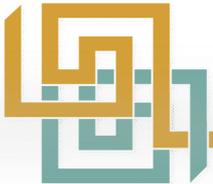

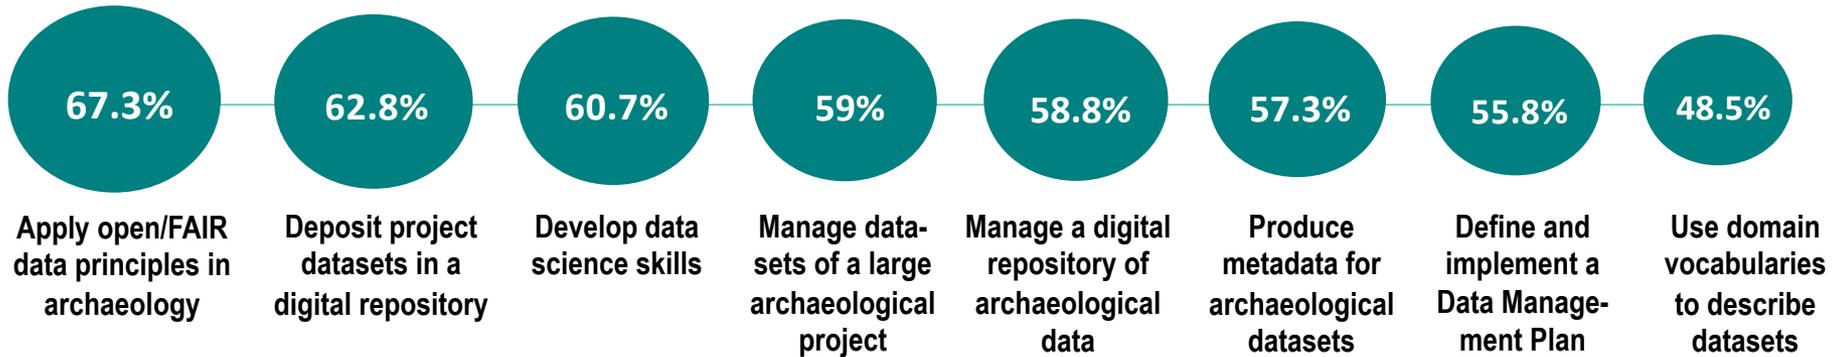

Helpfulness of ARIADNEplus services. Results for “very helpful” or “helpful” and just “very helpful” [N = 318-337]:

	“very helpful” or “helpful”	“very helpful”
Spatially and/or chronologically defined search options	96.3%	81.5%
Register a dataset in a portal that allows searching data from many providers	95.5%	74.7%
Discover & access archaeological data stored in repositories in different European & other countries	95.0%	73.6%
Search and visualize geo-spatial / GIS datasets	93.5%	68.9%
Multi-lingual search for archaeological data	83.0%	59.2%
Use Linked Data to interlink own and other datasets	82.9%	51.6%
Annotate images (e.g. artefact or laboratory images) and link them with other content	82.1%	49.6%
Post a picture of an object and get suggestions for similar ones	81.8%	54.0%
Display and manipulate visual data objects (e.g. RTI images, 3D models, LiDAR data)	81.5%	50.5%
Link and present together visual media (e.g. a 3D model) and related documentation	81.2%	49.8%
Process many documents (using NLP) to find those on certain topics or specific information they may contain	80.5%	49.8%
Identify & extract information from textual sources (e.g. a document repository) to produce metadata	79.8%	51.4%
Annotate texts (e.g. fieldwork or laboratory reports) and link them with other content	79.5%	48.6%
Align own vocabulary terms with international thesauri (e.g. Getty Arts & Architecture Thesaurus)	78.3%	49.7%
Map a database (schema) to the CIDOC-CRM extended for archaeological research data	74.5%	39.9%
Visualize in 3D the layers of an excavation and the related documentation	74.3%	45.3%
